To Make Korean Campaign Costly To China And Russia

By GEORGE DURNO
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—U. S. military and diplomatic officials emphasized today the determination of Gen. MacArthur to make a definite stand against the onrushing Chinese Reds in Korea.

This information came in the midst of complete and confused censorship, both from the Field Army and Tokyo, which had led many observers to believe MacArthur was "withdrawing" his United Nations forces to an early and complete evacuation of Korea.

American policy was reliably laid down as opposing any single-handed all-out war with the Chinese Communists.

To Make It Costly

There is a determination, however, to make the Korean campaign as costly as possible for the Peiping regime, and indirectly, Soviet Russia.

This decision to hold a beachhead of indeterminate depth is based on the philosophy that abject retreat or withdrawal is no longer possible in dealing with the Kremlin-directed drive for world domination.

Admittedly a continuing stand in Korea will cost the U. S. and their allies both in blood and money. Air, artillery and naval superiority figure to kill many Chinese Reds and devastate their supply lines.

The latter are all-important because the Communists obviously are being supplied by Russia.

Allied Planes In Heavy Attack On Red Forces

New Offensive On West Korean Front Believed Looming

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Jan. 12—(Friday)—Communist troop reinforcements moved into position for an expected new offensive on the West Korean battlefront Thursday but Allied planes inflicted heavy casualties on the enemy forces.

To the east in the Wonju area of the central front, a Red attack was stalled by United Nations ground forces.

UN warplanes were credited with killing or wounding 1,400 Communist troops out of a front-line force estimated at 260,000. Clearing weather gave the aircraft their first chance in three days to fly close support missions.

Planes Kill Reds

The U. S. Fifth Air Force announced that Chinese and North Korean Communist troops were caught in the open by low-flying war planes. In the western sector near Suwon below Seoul, an air summary said, 1,100 Reds were killed or wounded in a strike by 100 UN planes.

Other Allied fighter-bombers poured rockets and machine-gun fire into enemy troop concentrations at the mid-Korean hub of Wonju, at Seoul, and at Hoengsong, east of the Red-held South Korean capital.

An enemy force of about 1,500 men was spotted by reconnaissance planes moving south near Osan to reinforce Red troops in the west.

Standstill Around Wonju

Around Wonju, American Second Division as well as French and Dutch troops brought 10 North Korean divisions to a standstill after inflicting at least 2,100 enemy casualties during one seven-hour encounter of the three-day struggle.

Some In Congress Critical On New Draft Proposals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The administration's new plan to obtain military or work duty from all 18-year-olds and to lengthen the draft period to 27 months faces today a critical going-over in congress.

Assistant defense secretary Anna Rosenberg resumes the witness stand today before a senate armed sevrices subcommittee to "sell" members on the sweeping manpower program.

Senators said that it amounts to the government "taking over" youths when they reach 18.

To Present Measures

Mrs. Rosenberg in initial testimony Wednesday said the defense department will give congress in a few days a prpposed bill calling for universal military training and service for 18-year-olds.

About 450,000 young men would be called up the first year and

Gen. Eisenhower In Holland For Defense Talks

The Netherlands Is Expected To Promise Three Divisions

(BULLETIN)

THE HAGUE, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was reported today to have obtained a promise from Holland of three Dutch divisions for a west European army and said that with power and determination democracy "cannot possibly fail."

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager, I. N. S.)

THE HAGUE, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The Netherlands is expected to promise Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower three divisions in talks with Dutch authorities today on formation of the European defense army.

Holland is making preparations to provide the three divisions by the end of this year.

Dutch military sources said coincident with the arrival of Gen. Eisenhower from Belgium yesterday that three divisions was the goal set b ygovernment leaders who would make the promise formally to the American designated to command the combined forces of the Atlantic pact nations.

Promise Divisions

While in Brussels Eisenhower learned from Belgian officials that they plan to provide him with five divisions by July 1, 1952. France previously committed itself to provide 10 divisions by the end of this year and a full 20 by the end of 1953.

The Dutch already have one division in the process of formation. Military informants declared that the hard core of all the divisions which will be placed at the disposal of Eisenhower will comprise well-trained veterans who previously saw East Indies service.

At the outbreak of World War II the Dutch mustered four divisions. The government, however, is reluctant to appropriate sufficient funds for a similar number right now for fear that such a move would disrupt the standard of living in Holland.

Britain Will Make New Move For Korea Peace

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE LUCCESS, N. Y., Jan 11.—Britain is expected to take the initiative in the United Nations today with an "intermediate" plan for ending the Korean war based on proposals from the British commonwealth conference in London.

Instructions will be forwarded to British U. N. delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb after the scheduled meeting of the commonwealth ministers this forenoon.

Hope For Proposal

The 60-member political committee meets at 3 p. m. EST in the hope of hearing a definite proposal for dealing with Red China either from commonwealth delegate or from the standing three-man cease-fire group.

British sources said that in searching for a formula for a new approach to communist China, it would be futile to produce something unacceptable to Mai Tse-tung's regime of any plan which the United States cannot fully support.

Lewis Gives Stand

—Acme Telephoto

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis, president of UMW, in a press conference following his appearance before a Wage Stabilization board, declared that the government can't control prices and so should not try to control wages. He said there is now necessity for putting the economy "in irons".

Take Issue On Price Control With J. L. Lewis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—AFL, CIO and rail union leaders today took sharp issue with John L. Lewis and demanded an "enforceable price control" program to check inflation.

Representatives of the three labor groups went before the federal wage board to disagree with the stand of the United Mine Workers president who told the panel previously that general price-wage controls are unneeded.

Contrary to Lewis' position the United Labor Policy Committee of AFL, CIO and railroad unions that "an anti-inflation program requires price controls which can be enforced." The group added: "An overall program to check inflation does not now exist. No enforceable price control is possible until the defense production act is substantially revised by Congress."

Senate Finance Chairman Cool On Huge Tax Increase

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The administration drive for a balanced budget through a 20-billion dollar tax increase ran into coolness today on the part of Senate Finance Chairman George (D) Ga.

George said that "I can't commit myself to a tax which would wreck the economy of the country."

Sales Tax Considered

Treasury Secretary Snyder disclosed in a news conference that President Truman will ask Congress to balance the budget—and indicated that a sales tax is being considered.

Snyder did not reveal any figures. A budget of at least 70 to 75 billions for the defense period is expected. A 70-billion dollar budget would require new taxes of 20 billions—current rates will raise about 50 billions in the current fiscal year.

George, head of the Senate's tax-writing group, said:

"Generally speaking, we all are

Civil Defense Plans Given Impetus Here

Chairmen, Workers Meet Last Night To Hear Operation Plans

Civil defense in Lawrence county took some form Wednesday night in the court house when a meeting of chairmen and workers was held with County Co-ordinator W. Walter Braham presiding. About 175 attended.

Principal speaker was Col. Lewis F. Acker of the state civil defense organization. Col. Acker is an expert on airplane spotting and dwelt at length upon the necessity of ground-air spotting forces.

State Network

"Pennsylvania should be crisscrossed with ground-air spotters" said Col. Acker. "Due to our topographical irregularities radar cannot be depended upon in every section and for that reason we must have a state wide network of spotters. We have 856 posts over the state and these should be manned.

"It is a local proposition and a matter of co-operation. You will not be guarding attack in Lawrence county through your work, but you will be guarding against attacks east or west of here just as other spotters will be guarding against attacks here.

convinced that we must pay, as far as we reasonably can, for our defense program.

"I am in favor of collecting as much as we can and of getting as near as possible to a pay-as-you-go basis.

"But I can't commit myself to a tax which might wreck the economy."

"Short Of Shooting War"

George made it clear that his view applied only to conditions "short of a shooting war." He said that "in a shooting war we can take just about anything for it will be a war economy."

Meanwhile, endorsements for the pay-as-you go proposals came from two other finance Senators, Byrd (D) Va., and Butler (R) Neb.

Byrd said a sales or transaction tax "probably" will be necessary to supplement other increases, but said that at least seven billions should be saved through cutbacks in non-defense government activities.

Butler said he "would be very much surprised if the president sends up a balanced budget," but that he will favor "any reasonable tax program but I want government expenses reduced tremendously."

George and Butler, along with Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., declined to comment on methods of increasing taxes.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D) Colo., another finance committee member, said that a two percent sales tax would raise only 2.5 billion dollars, even without exemptions.

SOME IN CONGRESS CRITICAL ON NEW DRAFT PROPOSALS

the numbers would increase annually as the full program goes into operation.

In response to a question, Mrs. Rosenberg said President Truman will outline to congress later a work program for 18-year youths unable to qualify for military duty. She estimated it would affect from 100,000 to 150,000 boys.

Could Defer Some

The government under the new proposals could defer 75,000 youths of 18 one year so they could go to college. A civilian agency would decide methods for selecting the students and the courses for them which would be "of importance to the national interest".

Those deferred to study medicine, electronics or other vital subjects would first have to take four months training. They would "owe" the government the balance of the 27 months.

Armed services committeemen termed Mrs. Rosenberg's first statement a "good presentation" of the administration's case. But they said they had many critical questions to ask.

Immediate Issues

Sen. Saltonstall (R) Mass., said the program raises the immediate issues of whether congress should:

1. Compel 18-year-olds to serve their country.
2. Lengthen the draft period from the present 21 to 27 months.
3. Write into any bill a ban against sending 18-year-olds overseas.

Senate armed services chairman Russell (D) Ga., said he has yet to be "sold" on the need for the lengthened draft period. But he and Sen. Morse (R) Ore., said they have no objection to calling up 18-year-olds.

Morse said the big difficulty will be assigning the youths in accordance with their aptitudes.

REPORT 11 ABOARD PLANE ESCAPE DEATH

was scheduled to stop at Tinker Field, Okla., to refuel.

The pilot radioed the Kirtland air control tower last night that the plane was in trouble and gave orders a few minutes later to abandon ship.

All indications were that everyone aboard the plane parachuted, although Kirtland officials said they were not yet certain that the pilot did not crash-land the C-47, which was found by the searchers with the aid of fires and directions from a circling C-45.

Believe All Parachuted

Sgt. Lloyd Crawford, public relations officer at Kirtland, said:

"All of them, so far as we can find out, parachuted. Three of them, however, are in fairly serious condition, and no one is being permitted to talk to them now.

The plane crashed in what Sgt. Crawford described as "kind of desolate country, full of small hills but generally flat and sandy—ranchlands covered with scrub grass."

The ground rescue crew and a civilian plane were dispatched shortly after the tower operator heard the abandon ship order.

LEGISLATORS ARE HEARD AT ELLWOOD

certain I like the caucus idea of the parties whereby each party caucsed every week upon questions to come before the House. After seeing one caucus in session I am convinced it is a good system in that it gives the members a chance to work out defects in legislation before it gets to the floor of the House."

Assemblyman John C. Miller of Beaver county spoke briefly. The principal speaker was Arnold L. Edmundson of the State Chamber of Commerce. He pointed out that $100,000,000 or more in additional revenues would be needed for the present biennium. He also pointed out that the state's bonded indebtedness in 1946 was $86,000,000. In 1950 it was $662,000,000.

Executive Vice President Eben L. Reid of the Greater New Castle Association and Mrs. Reid attended. From the Legislative committee of the Women's club a delegation of about 20 attended and from the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association a delegation of four. In addition there was a representation from the business firms of the city.

downtown section was prohibited on Wednesday, while workmen with power equipment removed the accumulation of slush and snow from the sides of the streets to make for better parking and walking. The work was effective and appreciated by motorists.

On days such as these, when slush and water gathers in cartway and along curbs motorists should have a thought for pedestrians. Some of them drive fast and splash water over pedestrians on sidewalks. One woman who had slush and water splashed over her clothing at North and North Mercer streets yesterday afternoon, told police she would swear out an information against the motor car operator.

Operators of motor cars who have not applied for their 1951 operator's licenses should make application immediately as all operators must have a new license February 1. New auto plates are required April 1. The auto inspection period ends this month.

Apparently some motorists are somewhat derelict in keeping their headlights in good condition. A drive throughout the city and on county highways shows that many motorists operate cars with only one headlight, which is confusing to drivers of cars operating in the opposite direction.

Another local resident, Mrs. Robert A. Rowan, King avenue, is wondering where some letters that were received January 10, have been. The letters were mailed here December 13, 14, and 15.

ALLIED PLANES IN HEAVY ATTACK

were rushed to the aid of the battered North Koreans. But evidence mounted that the Communist command, thwarted in its efforts to sweep around the U. S. Eighth Army's inland flank, was switching its main pressure back to the west.

In a front dispatch received at 9:30 Thursday night (7:30 a.m. EST), International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne quoted Eighth Army officers as saying a new Red offensive in the western sector could be expected within 24 hours.

Move Up Troops

Airmen returning from Thursday's smashing strikes reported that the Chinese invaders had taken advantage of a two-day lapse in U.N. aerial reconnaissance to move heavy concentrations of troops and supplies to the front.

These big columns, Schakne's dispatch related, were seen pouring down the snow-covered roads south of Suwon and Osan, 20 and 28 miles below Red-occupied Seoul. Patrols thrusting north from the Eighth Army's new main defenses below Osan made their first contacts with Red vanguards.

Schakne said the enemy's apparent switch of emphasis from the central to the western sector could indicate that the heroic U. S. Second Division was successful in halting the Red drive to envelop the Eighth Army from the east.

Small Patrol Clashes

The Eighth Army's briefing officer said Thursday night that the day's action south of pivotal Wonju was confined mostly to small patrol clashes. However, in one engagement eight miles below the rail-highway hub, 70 miles east of Osan, U.N. artillery was credited with killing some 50 Reds.

The Wonju battle for control of South Korea's heart continued with diminished fury in its third day. A late field dispatch quoted frontline reports as saying allied positions in the key sector were "stable" at about midday Thursday.

International News Service War Correspondent Robert Schakne reported from Korea at 5:51 p.m. (3:51 a.m. EST) that Thursday morning's only important action came when a Red patrol probed the lines of a French battalion near Wonju.

The enemy thrust provoked a firefight, outcome of which was not yet known.

North Koreans Hurled Back

The Communist counter-assault south and southwest of Wonju was blunted after 7,000 North Koreans were hurled back by the American Second Infantry Division and attached French and Dutch units Wednesday.

At least 2,100 North Korean Reds were killed or wounded in this seven-hour fight. Large Chinese reinforcements were moving into the Wonju sector from the west Thursday to bolster the staggered North Koreans.

A heavy snowstorm which had blanketed the Wonju area Tuesday and Wednesday lifted Thursday, enabling planes to support the embattled U.N. ground forces for the first time in three days.

Six U. S. Marine Corps skyraiders and four Corsairs hit hard at the enemy which was estimated to consist of 10 North Korean divisions and one brigade, with the Chinese entering the sector.

participation in the defense of Europe.

But the foreign relations chairman emphatically rejected the defense program alvocated by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, as a "faint-hearted philosophy" which he said would "put a price tag on world peace."

Sen. Majority Leader McFarland (D) Ariz., opened the day's important debate with an appeal for unity and an end to "loose talk" which he said might be "distorted" abroad to the country's disadvantage.

McFarland particularly urged prudence in the Senate until Gen. Eisenhower has reported on his survey as European defense chief next month.

B.P.W. MEMBERS HEAR TIMELY TALK

"Measure Up In Health" was the dinner meeting's theme for discussion Wednesday evening, when the New Castle Business and Professional Women's club assembled in First Methodist church. Chrysanthemums and miniature automobiles decorated the tables.

After serving, a safety program was presented with Sgt. Raymond A. Blythe of the state police barracks, Butler, showing the timely film, "And Then There Were Four". Sgt. Blythe stated, "You are most important in the traffic picture whether you walk or drive". He said, "Enforcement is not the answer today".

Sgt. Blythe added "Education plays as important place in driving today as enforcement". There are 275 high schools in Pennsylvania that teach safe-driving today. One out of every five children will be killed or seriously inujred in a traffic accident.

The speaker told of the Green Pennant safety campaign the New Castle Lions club is sponsoring for grade school children. When pupils have not been involved in any accidents for 30 days, the Green Pennant will be flown over their school. Another award is given for the second month, while a plaque is presented for the Green Pennant for the third month. The campaign has been in use in Butler county for three years.

Russell Canan of the New Castle Lions club spoke of the safety campaign in reference to the local school system. The program was presented by the health and safety committee, headed by Mrs. Bruce Headland, while Miss Lois Lightner introduced the speakers. Miss Isabel Johnson served as accompanist for group singing, led by Mrs. James E. VanGorder.

Miss Dorothy Long presided when Miss Helen Keder told of plans for a style show and also for an antique show. Miss Mary VanDivort asked the members to attend the Greater New Castle association dinner next Tuesday at the Cathedral. A letter, expressing appreciation from the Lawrence County Tuberculosis association for the club's contribution to the isolation home, was read.

HOUSE: MORE MEMBERS?

A few members of Congress, seeking to save their seats, will sponsor a bill at this session to raise House membership from 435 to 450. The added cost would run into at least six figures. It is hard to see how the nation would gain from this change.

The House is already unwieldy in size, and might function with greater efficiency and independence if its membership were reduced.

The reason advanced for the proposed change is that under congressional reapportionment, mandatory and automatic this year under a law passed in 1941, nine states will lose a total of 14 seats in the House. Seven states will gain an equal number. The proposed increase of 15 seats would take up the slack.

There were only 65 members of the House in the First Congress. The admission of new states and increases in the population caused a steady increase until 1910, when House membership was stabilized at the present 435—669 per cent of the original figure. Many observers think the House could do a better job if its membership were smaller, although they do not point to the Senate, with 96 members, as proof of their contention.

Decreasing the number of House members would save a little money, therefore, if there is any change, it should be in that direction. But a proposal that would cost some members of the House their seats would stand still less chance of going through than the proposal for an increase.

ARMS CAN BE FORGED

Early January surveys of business reveal where the world has been during the last 12 months. They do not necessarily point to where it is doing, even in relatively normal times. They cannot predict a year such as this with exactitude because nobody can guess what the rearmament effort will do to the economy of the western nations.

Such statistics do show, nevertheless, that the economy of the United States was extremely productive in 1950 and that the economy of many European nations was more productive than optimists had dared to hope for a mere five years ago.

The gross national product of this country last year was $280,000,000,000, or 9 per cent above that of 1949. Part of the increase is attributable to higher prices. Western Europe's gross national product has been estimated at $160,000,000,000.

Other statistics show that the U. S. economy because increasingly "tight" as the year advanced. For example, civilian employment rose from 58,700,000 in 1949 to 60,000,000 last year. The labor force had little slack in it at year's end.

On the whole, the surveys are cheering. The job of weaponing the nation will not be easy, but it is certainly not impossible.

THE COUNTRY PRESS SAYS

PLACER, CALIFORNIA, HERALD: "Some of our own citizens are Communists at heart, working within the framework of our consitutional rights to destroy our republican form of government."

EPHRAIM, UTAH, ENTERPRISE: " . . . Had more attention been paid to the nation's safety and less to changing the American way of life to some 'ism' borrowed from Europe, there would have been no Korean War with its huge lists of American casualties."

GREAT FALLS, MONTANA, LEADER: "The American people are, of course, for preparedness. They are willing to make sacrifices for that purpose. They are ready to submit to such controls as circumstances may make necessary. But surely they are not unreasonable in expecting the government to participate with them in the program."

BROOKHAVEN, MISSISSIPPI, LEADER-TIMES: "It seems almost incredible that an alien political philosophy, such as socialism, could creep up on a people who despise it but that is just what is happening (here) at an accelerating pace. It is time the self styled 'liberals' leading the parade be asked for an accounting. . . Active citizens feel that it is time now for us to put the (X) mark on the left wingers before they put the double (XX) cross on all of us!"

STALIN ON PAGE ONE

Soviet Russia must be a press agent's paradise—providing his job is to publicize J. Stalin.

A Yugoslav provincial newspaper, analyzing a recent copy of Pravda, Communist party newspaper, finds that Stalin's name was mentioned 101 times on the first page.

Josef Vissarionovich Stalin appeared 35 times; Comrade Stalin, 33 times; great leader, 10 times; dear and beloved Stalin, 7 times, and great Stalin, 6 times.

To vary the monotony there were also such modest references as "Stalin the Genius"; "great leader of entire mankind"; "faithful fighter for the cause of peace," and so on.

It is not of record that the Bolshevik top man was embarrassed by this avalanche of fulsome phrases on Page One. Nor is there any indication whether any editor must keep to a daily average of, say, 100 first-page notices for Stalin or risk being blue-penciled with a "burp" gun.

On the whole, this Pravda case is reassuring. Stalin will never succeed in taking over newspapers in this country—the massed cohorts of American press agents would never let him hog that much space.

Holland To Present Problem

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is digging toward the kernel of European military problems and as he proceeds toward the east the difficulties of his mission will loom larger and larger.

In Belgium, as well as in France, he has received a rousing welcome.

Crown Prince Baudouin lost no time in handing over to the American general his own traditional powers as commander-in-chief of the Belgian Army, which was more of an honor than any abdication of responsibility.

And Eisenhower probably will find among the Belgians whose neutrality was twice violated by the Germans a strong determination to resist any Soviet incursion.

Different in Holland

But things might be somewhat different in Holland, and many European observers feel that The Netherlands at the present time may comprise the weakest link in any European defense system unless the Germans themselves eventually decide that rearmament would be anything but a profitable and healthy undertaking.

Since Holland ceased to be a great military power many decades ago, there has been a constant rise in national feeling against war and militarism in any form.

Her little army held out only four days against the Nazis. Her resistance to Nazi occupation was strong and earned terrible reprisals, which in themselves are somewhat responsible for the feeling that prevails today.

Poignant Defeatism

Some observers have detected what they term a poignant defeatism in the country.

But over and above this is the fact that Holland is not geared to defense, despite her strategic position as a northern anchor of any Allied system.

The country has a form of military conscription which ostensibly calls for enlistment of 90 thousand young men each year. But exemptions are made on so many grounds that not more than 30 thousand are called up annually, and it is an admitted fact that the Dutch could not at present put even a fully armed division into the field.

The Dutch have abandoned pride in militarism as a profession and while they have shown their abilities, such as in Indonesia, service in arms is not sought after with any enthusiasm.

Lack of Equipment

Then there is almost a complete lack of equipment.

Virtually all the military supplies turned out by the Dutch were sent to Indonesia to bring about pacification. When the troops who carried them returned, they came back empty-handed, for rifles, artillery and ammunition were left in the care of native authorities to maintain order.

The feeling in general was expressed by a flood of protests in Dutch newspapers when Army Chief of Staff Hans Kruls recently proposed that a strategically located bird sanctuary be converted into a military training ground. This was attacked by the press as a "crude military idea"—repugnant to the people.

Two solutions have been suggested to key Holland successfully into the defense picture.

Need Vast Supply

One is a vast supply of arms and ammunition from the United States.

The other is the use of German and possibly by means of their inate militarism galvanize the Dutch troops to fill out the Dutch Army to greater efforts and increased admiration for the science of arms.

The latter of course is predicted on German willingness to serve in a defense force, and particularly to do so on any soil but their own.

Conferences have begun at Bonn between Allied and West German political and military leaders which are expected to determine the form and extent of German partieipation. It is a strange but admitted prank of war that the Allies, having disarmed Germany, cannot order her but must ask her to rearm.

Gen. Eisenhower appears to radiate confidence. But it is significant that on his arrival in Brussels he said he would make another visit and requested that the second one be kept secret.

Obviously, he is not committing himself on the practicability of the defense plan until he has studied all its angles—political, military and spiritual. It is quite impossible to predict that he will receive unfailing cooperaton everywhere.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELPING CHILD WITH HOMEWORK GOOD PRACTICE

Often in this column I have entreated parents to keep in close touch with the child's school work and to be ever ready at home to help him with his learning when they can, especially in those subjects or parts of subjects in which he seems to lag. But I have pleaded with parents always to be calm and patient when helping a child with his lessons, never to let the voice rise but to walk away from him the moment they felt the least bit angry at his mistakes. (My bulletins, "Parents and the Child's Home Work," and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.)

Teachers who win the confidence of parents can prevail on these parents to cultivate self-control and poise while helping their children at home with reading, spelling, arithmetic and the like. Happy, comfortable relationships between the child and his parents when he tries to learn are far more important than teaching methods. Indeed, if these relationships are good, the parent is eager to use the same methods which the child uses at school and the child is ready to apprise the parent of these methods. How the child feels when he is trying to learn anything is of first importance, and how he feels over his lessons when helped at home has much to do with how he feels over them at school and vice versa.

Book Learning

Even when we parents are not helping a child with his book learning we constantly create by words and actions favorable or unfavorable attitudes in him toward his learning at school. When we listen appreciatively as he reports in conversation at home his learnings and experiences at school, we can build in him good learning morale at school. How wonderful when we enjoy at the dinner table or around the fireside hearing the child in the kindergarten, fifth grade or high school tell of things he has learned or done with satisfaction at school! Often this child may thus enrich our wisdom and knowledge even when he is in the kindergarten, if we are humble apperciative listeners. And just see what it means to him to know we are learning from him or with him.

How delightful it can be to spell a word at home for the school child who is preparing some written work, even if he calls to us from another room and we call back to him the correct spelling, or to look up with him the meaning or spelling of a word in the dictionary or go searching with him through magazines, encyclopaedia or other sources for facts he needs; or talk companionably with the adolescent son or daughter about his course of study for the next semester.

Recent Forum

As I was talking over the foregoing ideas recently at a forum of parents, a mother said, "Can't we parents sometimes show too much concern about our child's work at school?" Her question reminded me of a story of the kindergarten lad whose father had been asking him every evening what he had learned that day. The little fellow usually was not able to report any specific thing he had learned, and after a number of evenings grew a bit annoyed at his father's stock question. So he said to his father, "If you will just wait till I learn something, Daddy, I'll tell you."

If we parents listen appreciatively our children will, on their own accord, tell us a great deal about their learning and experiences at school and elsewhere. Our silent attitude can be far more eloquent than words. The nearest synonym for such relationship is love.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

There's some doubt whether we can use Harold Stassen in our plane-spotting group Where most people can just see pigeons circling he's been spotting the dove of peace recently.

We can't be sure about him until we've checked his optician, but it would be wonderful if he was right.

Wonderful if it were not for the fact that one of our great leaders reported the same mirage in early June Then the transports left for Korea.

The words at the time were "peace never was closer" Then we were off to the other side of the world to protect Brooklyn bridge.

All I know is when they issue a gun permit in my town for the protection of the home they don't expect it to be kept under a neighbor's pillow.

And most people who buy "beware the dog" signs put them on their own gates as it seems kind of pointless to loan the dog to a fellow in the next town.

Re-Learning The Lesson The Japs Taught Us

Light Plane Revelations

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

LUFKIN, Texas, Jan. 11—If you want to meet Mother Nature, shake her hand, and learn how puny man is compared to her, then travel about this country in a light plane.

Flying in a light plane, and flying in a giant commercial plane, is as different as night and day, if not more so.

The Connies and DC-6's and the C-54's either can bore through the bad weather that Ma Nature provides on occasion or fly above it.

But the little plane has to be careful. The pilot—mine is Bill France—has to watch the clouds more carefully than any painter or photographer ever did. This is our first day out of Dallas, on the way to Miami, and we're spending the night here.

There are two passengers with France—myself and Bill Slater—and Slater just said the truest words I have ever heard.

Never Lonesome in Air

He said, in effect, that the owner and pilot of a private plane never is lonesome once his wheels clear the runway and his ship is airborne. From that second, until his wheels touch the runway of the town of his destination, there are thousands of men holding his hand, interested in his welfare, and giving him by radio and radio telephone all the knowledge they have—and for free.

We had planned to make Miami the same day we left Dallas. But Ma Nature cooked up hail, thunder, lghtning, rain, and clouds darker than the inside of a watch pocket. If we hadn't had help from the ground, the chances are our closest of kin now would be standing in line at insurance offices.

Straight up from the ground—and welcome as a check from home—came the weather reports and advice from the CAA. The ceiling is this and that in front. A Connie reports violent turbulence here. Ice conditions exist at 4,000 feet at this point. It would be wise if you didn't try to pass through the thunderheads at this point.

It was as comforting as a light in your room at night when you were a baby. And all the time you knew that if you didn't reach the destination you had filed in your flight plan within a decent time, all ships would be looking for you.

We Came Down

So, when the boys on the ground told us to come down at Lufkin, we came down. The weather was decent here. A high ceiling, and good visibility, but we wouldn't have known about Lufkin if our friends on the ground had not been interested in us, and saw to it that we knew where to go.

I'm glad we came down in Lufkin. It's in Texas, and Texas is always full of surprises. Texas never does things halfway. The airport at Lufkin is big enough for a city ten times it size. Just a bit of proof that Lufkin goes in for optimism and is confident that in a few years it will be as big as Washington or any other town you can name.

The airport is about ten miles outside of town. Lufkin wants room to grow. It has hotels enough to handle an American Legion Convention, and the Angelina is the kind of hotel you'd expect in a metropolis. Air-conditioned throughout, service of any sort around the clock, and a staff which would welcome the Duke and Duchess as graciously and properly as any hotel in New York, Cairo, London or Paris.

It would do Americans good to make at least one trip a year to Texas. The people are solid. Texas has faith in itself and America. No talk of taking a brushoff from any other country out here. Nothing is impossible to Texans. They won't admit that anything is impossible.

The governor of Texas bet the Brazos river that Texas would beat Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl game.

My guess is that the Texans will find some way to deliver Brazos to Tennessee.

Yes, a tremendous state, Texas, and peopled with the kind of people who founded this country.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

HONORARY MEMBER

So they honored you, eh? And you ought to be proud
Of the flattering speeches they made,
But you can't take the praises and cheers of the crowd
Without being a little afraid.

You can't take the medal and membership card
Without taking the trust they bestow.
Such emblems of honor, good will and regard.
You must carry wherever you go.

Not lightly such honors should ever be worn,
Nor thoughtlessly hidden away.
They're a burden henceforth that must bravely be borne
Lest the faith of your friends they betray.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Three ladies at a Saratoga hotel, desperately seeking a fourth for bridge, finally appealed to a little old lady in an alpaca dress who was crocheting and minding her own business in a sheltered corner of the porch. Flustered but obviously pleased by the invitation, she said, "I'll play, but I warn you, I'm not up on all those new conventions." Don't worry," they assured her. "None of us are members of the Regency club either." On the very first hand, three consecutive passes left the bidding strictly up to the little old lady. She studied her hand carefully cocked her head to one side, and bid, "Two clovers."

A producer of slip-shod "quickies" in Hollywood, one step ahead of the sheriff, was attempting a saga of high life on Broadway in the gay and turbulent twenties. He phoned his wife and asked, "Do you happen to remember what dresses were like twenty-five years ago?" She replied bitterly, "Like mine are today," and hung up.

They Say

WASHINGTON—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio: "I'm in favor of saying to Russia, 'if you attack western Europe, you will find yourself at war with us.' I am in favor of making the Atlantic pact a Monroe doctrine for western Europe."

BRUSSELS—Gen. Eisenhower: "I want to make it quite clear that I am here at this time to help build an organization for defense and security of the western democracies."

PUSAN — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea: "We must rise and fight to the death before it is too late."

LONDON—United States Ambassador Walter S. Gifford: "Clearly we are on firm grounds in believing that in both the east and in the west we shall meet and defeat the menace of communist aggression."

From Me To You

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house, everyone was happy except pa and ma . . . they were feeling neglected . . . 'tis true they had the toys all in place under the tree, the turkey was stuffed and the potatoes were peeled . . . Plum pudding was steaming in high style on the back burner . . . The whole family was home all snug in their beds . . .but what had happened to all the greeting cards that had been sent by their friends?

No, we didn't lose this column . . . and just now found it . . . but for two weeks ma and pa have been wondering about this greeting card business . . . what had they done during the year to make their friends forget . . . always Uncle Louie sent a card from the other side of town . . . And cousin George too . . . and that couple they have been visiting with ever since High School Days, they only live a few miles from town, on the other side that is. Those were black days for ma and pa . . . But the light came on bright yesterday.

The greeting cards arrived . . . sixteen of 'em . . . that missing portion of Christmas arrived. Happy day . . . for ma and pa . . . Touching story isn't it . . . But doesn't it make you wonder how many such stories are unfolding this week?

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Controversy On President's Powers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—President Truman has chosen in his State of the Union message to ignore the Republican challenge to the President's powers. That challenge, as stated by Senator Robert A. Taft, denies the right of the President to send additional American troops to Europe without the consent of Congress.

The message is based on the assumption that the commitments have long since been made and that plans are proceeding according to schedule. The wisdom of this tactic is open to question however much one may approve the goal that General Eisenhower seeks in Europe. It will not end the debate. In fact, it may prolong it and that raises the all-important question of timing.

There can be no doubt that the issue raised by Taft, against the background of Herbert Hoover's speech attacking the whole concept of collaboration with Western Europe, has caused deep doubts abroad. Those doubts have been answered in part by the very fact of General Eisenhower's mission.

Committed To Partnership

His confidence and his resolution on his arrival in Paris will tend to offset the words of uncertainty and doubt that were so unfortunately timed on the eve of his departure. In his talk on the French and British radio, Eisenhower said: "We are committed to a great partnership and I, in all humility, am proud to serve in one phase of attaining the aspirations of our several peoples."

If there are doubts in Europe, there are also doubts in this country. The line of division on foreign policy has been sharply drawn by the Taft-Hoover declarations. The Hoover-Taft adherents will keep the issue alive, their best tactic being obviously to prolong the debate in the hope of winning more adherents as the doubts spread.

Harmful Effect

But such a delay will have a harmful effect on the efforts to prepare the defense of the west. Here at home important decisions will be postponed from week to week and month to month as the argument continues and grows hotter. Abroad the unresolved dispute will spread the corrosion of distrust, with, one may be certain, the active assistance of Communist propaganda.

There is a time schedule that could, and should, bring an end to the debate at an early opportunity. General Eisenhower will return from Europe at the end of this month. He will report to the Congress on his findings. Surely, too, he will report to the people in a nationwide broadcast.

In the wake of that broadcast means should be found to have a test vote in the Senate on the right of the president to participate in the defense of Western Europe to the extent of sending further American divisions to be stationed there. I think that most Democrats would vote for cooperation and with them would be a fair number of Republicans. There can be little doubt about the outcome.

Preliminary Trip

Senator Taft suggested in his television interview that General Eisenhower was not committed finally to lead a unified defense command by reason of the preliminary survey trip Eisenhower is now making in the capitals of the North Atlantic powers. Strictly speaking, that is true. General Eisenhower could return to report that he found such a lack of both confidence and intention as to make it impossible to build the defenses of Western Europe.

But anyone who knows Eisenhower may be sure that this is not what he will report. He is thoroughly aware, both as a soldier and a diplomat, of the integral role of Europe in our military and our economic life.

If Belgium should fall, as President Truman pointed out, America's chief source of uranium in the Belgian Congo would be seriously jeopardized, if not actually lost. A whole range of strategic materials must come from across the seas in a pattern of exchange that cannot be shattered without serious consequences to the security of this hemisphere. And underlying this economic pattern are the ties of religion, art, history, and tradition that go deeper than most of us realize.

'Weigh His Words'

"Let us debate the issue," said the President in his message, "but let every man among us weigh his words and deeds. There is a sharp difference between harmful criticism and constructive criticism. If we are truly responsible as individuals, I am sure that we will be unified as a government."

It is hard to say how those words relate to the current controversy. Is the debate on the President's powers to continue indefinitely? Or, if it is to be resolved, how will this come about? The answer may be in the lead being given by the Eisenhower mission in Europe from day to day. The President's instinct is apparently to trust to the forging of ties that no amount of words spilled in Congress can possibly disrupt.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"This spring I became a member of a church after more than twenty years of spiritual wandering," writes Mrs. Beatrice Colgate, of Darien, Conn.

"One of the questions I asked the minister concerned the afterlife and the teachings which had been so deeply ingrained into my soul.

"His answer was so simple and right, my fears and anxieties were dispelled.

"'If we all lived piling up credits for an after-life,' he said, 'I doubt if many of us would have enough of them. LIVE TODAY AND EACH DAY TO THE BEST OF YOUR ABILITY AND YOU WILL NOT HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT THE HEREAFTER.'"

Like Mrs. Colgate, many of us live in fears and anxieties these days.

Our fears and anxieties, however, are not only about the hereafter but also about the tomorrow and the day after tomorrow.

What can we do about it?

Exactly what the minister told her:

"Live today and each day to the best of your ability."

But to live to the best of our ability we must have something to live by and to live for.

In the good years we have lived by our own principles and for our own interests.

In that we have failed.

To live only according to one's own standards and for one's own benefit is living the life of a spiritual bankrupt. You may have everything the world has to give in goods and chattels, in luxuries and enjoyment—yet your life may be completely empty.

You may go to church each Sunday in the year, each Christmas day, each holy day, yet, in the words of the minister, you are only "piling up credits for an after-life."

None of us knows anything about the hereafter. We pray for it, we hope for it, we have faith in it.

But we do know the life we live NOW.

We know its joys and its sorrows, we know its friendships and its lonelinesses, we know its costs and its rewards.

As time goes on we all learn that we need something besides the material things to make our lives worthwhile.

All the pleaures and all the gaiety of a night cannot prevent the spiritual hangover of the empty next morning.

All the fur coats and jewels one's purse can purchase to bedeck the body cannot clothe the nakedness of a soul that years for solace and peace.

If you have tried everything else, why don't you try religion some time?

Not necessarily the religion of church and pulpit, fine as that may be. But the religion of your own sanctuary, a modest, quiet communion with the God of all faiths, of all creeds, of all denominations.

If you let God live with you today, He surely will give you shelter in the hereafter.

Rearmament Of Japan Poses Big Problem

TOKYO, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida declared tonight that the subject of Japanese rearmament requires "discreet handling as well as mature deliberation."

He asserted Japan is firmly aligned with the United Nations in the world struggle against Communism but was wary of committing his nation to rearmament.

He urged other methods in addition to the use of force to "penetrate the iron curtain."

The premier, speaking at the annual prime minister's night dinner at the Tokyo correspondents' club, said:

"Arms are not the only means of combatting Red aggression. The Communists use a propaganda war of nerves and infiltration.

"I do not see why democracies should not employ the same methods."

Members of Yoshida's entourage elaborated to say he was speaking with reference to both domestic and external conditions, hinting that Japan, well versed in the wars of Asia, could contribute more than just armies to fight Communism.

Yoshida spoke only briefly on the subject of Japan's rearming to fight Communism. His aides said the premier is convinced the country cound not embark upon a rearmament program unless given assurance of full and complete United Nations—and particularly American—support.

Leaves $400 To Cover Burial Of Four Cats

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 11—(INS)—An elderly spinster's two pet cats will get a fancy burial but not the usual quota of nine lives.

The will of the late Miss Julia G. Haley set aside $400 to cover the expense of the execution and burial of her pets.

Filed in Probate Court yesterday, Miss Haley's will said she did not want the cats to become homeless after her death.

She left $400 to Harry O. Porter, superintendent of the Hamilton county dog pound, with the request that the pets be put to death in a painless manner and buried.

Million Posters To Tell New Yorkers How To Act In Raid

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—(INS)—Civil defense authorities have begun distribution to New Yorkers of one million posters showing and telling city residents what to do in case of a "sneak" enemy attack, or in the event of an air raid warning.

The posters, illustrated with sketches, advise New Yorkers in event of a sneak attack to "do this fast":

"(At Home) Get under bed or close to the wall, away from windows. Cover exposed parts of body and close eyes tightly."

"(At Work) Get under desk, table or bench. Lie close to wall away from windows or glass doors. Cover exposed parts of body and close eyes tightly."

"(Out Walking) Take any shelter if within a few steps. If no shelter near, fall to ground face downward, cover exposed part of body, close eyes tightly."

"(In Vehicle) Pull into curb, stop, turn off ignition. Cover face and eyes and fall to floor."

"(Children At School) If your children are at school, you stay at home. Don't phone—teachers are trained to care for the students.

Television Microscope Development Reported

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Scientists of Princeton University and the Radio Corporation of America announced the development of a television microscope. They said it will make possible for the first time the study of many minute living organisms.

The new research tool will be applied to the study of cancer next week.

Until now most of the tiny organisms had to be killed and stained before they could be viewed on a slide under a microscope. Now they will be able to be viewed, magnified 2,000 times, through television while still alive and functioning.

High Commissioner For Atomic Energy Named In France

PARIS, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The French cabinet announced today the appointment of Francis Perrin, professor at the College De France, to the post of French high commissioner for atomic energy.

The post has been vacant since last April when Communist Dr. Frederic Joliot-Curie was fired from the position by then Premier Georges Bidault.

The reason for Joliot-Curie's dismissal was a speech he made in which he said that "no true progressive scientist" would give any scientific information for the purpose of war against Soviet Russia.

Ask Extra Engineer Be Placed On All Long Island Trains

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen demanded today that a "co-pilot" safety engineer be placed on all Long Island railroad trains or it will demand "ride risk bonuses" for trainmen on the wreck-plagued line.

The bonuses, a spokesman explained, would be similar to extra pay given seamen during wartime who face the danger of sailing foreign seas.

The demands stemmed from two recent accidents on the Long Island rialroad in which 111 persons were killed.

W. Parker Kennedy, president of the 20,000-member BRT, charged that inquiries and "inquiries into inquiries" have not yet made the railroad safe. He insisted that "passenger safety engineers" be placed on all the LIRR trains for the protection of passengers and crewmen.

BRT general counsel Edward B. Henslee said that if the engineer program is not carried out he has been instructed to make a formal demand for the "ride risk bonuses." The union spokesman noted that while Long Island trainmen are members of the union, no engineers are members. Thus, Henslee said, "in no way is the brotherhood trying to create more jobs for members of his own organization."

State Police Say:

Suggestions, when repeated, should be considered warnings. We again suggest that when you stop your car at the curb use extreme caution if you alight from the driver's side. Better still, always get out on the curb or street side. Too many operators carelessly jump out of their cars without looking to see if any traffic is approaching. Many times an approaching driver will have to pull beyond the center of the highway to avoid striking you, and at the same time may be depriving other traffic of the right of way, or involving himself in an accident in trying to avoid injuring or killing you.

Two Are Arrested In Connection With Bank Robbery

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11.—(INS)—The FBI on Wednesday announced the capture of a 25-year-old New Jersey man and his girl friend in connection with the robbery of a Belleville, N. J., bank of about $21,000 Monday night.

Paul Elton Juryla, of Nutley, N. J., was picked up by Federal agents last night in Daytona Beach just 24 hours after the Belleville Trust company had been looted.

Juryla's girl friend, Marian Goodford, 22, was arrested by agents in New Jersey in connection with the theft.

Agents said they found $16,000 in currency in Juryla's room at the home of a Daytona Beach friend. Juryla was taken to Jacksonville to be arraigned.

FBI agents in Miami said Juryla denied any part in the bank theft and claimed he knew nothing of the money found in his room.

Following his arrest, he was taken to Jacksonville for a hearing and probably will be returned to New Jersey.

Tuberculosis Seal Sale total is now $15,706.05 with approximately 14,000 residents having sent in contributions, it was announced today by J. O. Huston, president of the board of directors.

Many of the returns received lately, by the Lawrence County Society have been accompanied by letters of explanation.

For example, one donor wrote, "I regret this delay, but I am not consoled in my tardiness by the fact that your society works the year round, not just during the Christmas season. Your reminder was appreciated—I had just neglected to send my contribution in."

Mr. Huston explained that it is not too late for any county resident to acknowledge his seal sale letter, and that any returns, now help the society meet the quota. The 1951 program of the society, and plans for the new isolation home hang in the balance.

Mr. Huston wishes to thank every one who worked for the success of the sale, including every resident and organization who bought and used the Christmas seals.

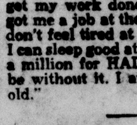
Today's Great Hope for Those Suffering Aches and Pains

Due to Lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief • Read How Just a Few of Thousands Have Relieved the Cause of Such Deficiences with Hadacol!

Mrs. Homer Hames, R.D. 1, Newport, Ohio: "I have been having aches for a time, and I did everything I knew of to help without success. So I took three bottles of HADACOL. I sure feel good now. I couldn't hardly do my housework before, but now I can get my work done good. I went and got me a job at the pottery and really don't feel tired at the end of the day. I can sleep good at night now. Thanks a million for HADACOL. I wouldn't be without it. I am thirty-two years old."



A. M. Hurst, R.R. #2, Box 205, Perry, Florida: "I was born September 23, 1872. I heard of your HADACOL having the vitamins B_1, and B_2 in liquid form and that sounded good to me. I bought and have taken two small, one large and part of a second large bottle. Now I do not feel any more aches and pains. I intend to keep right on taking HADACOL."

J. L. Pappy, Bayard, Florida: "I feel that I should tell the world about your wonderful HADACOL. I have suffered with aches and pains for the past years, which worried me considerably. But, after taking two large bottles and one small bottle of HADACOL, I am now doing all my work again, and feel better. I sleep good at night, eat hearty all because of your wonderful product. I am seventy-five years of age, and far more active than the average man, and feel sure that if I had not heard about HADACOL, I would not of been able to achieve the things I have done since taking it. I will always praise your wonderful HADACOL."

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc, the Man Responsible for Today's Great HADACOL

Senator LeBlanc has been in public life since he was quite a young man and he has always advocated the cause of the oppressed and the downtrodden. It was he who introduced the law in Louisiana that gives every deserving man and woman in Louisiana a pension of $50.00; it was he who introduced the law creating the office of Service Commissioner, the duties of which office is to see that every deserving ex-soldier and veteran receives his just reward from the Federal and State Government; it was he who has consistently fought the battle of the school teachers in the halls of the legislature; he worked untiringly for the farmers and the laboring man.

In view of the fact that this man has worked so untiringly for your cause and in your behalf, don't you believe that it was reasonable to assume that in his untiring efforts he would someday find something to assist you besides rendering governmental assistance.

The word "HADACOL" has become a by-word throughout this Nation. Read the testimonials on this page. Ask your friends who have taken HADACOL the benefits they have received from it. Don't hesitate. Place your confidence in a man who has by his past activities demonstrated to you that he is your friend—that his heart beats in sympathy with your cause—and if you are suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron, don't hesitate—don't delay—buy HADACOL . . . the product made by the best friend you have ever had.

Refuse substitutes. There's only one true HADACOL

No Firms Bid On State's Culm

Waters And Forests Department Left With Real Problem

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11.—The state department of forests and waters apparently is going to be left holding the bag in connection with selling the culm dredged from the Schuylkill river. The bag in this case contains more than 3,500,000 cubic yards of culm impounded in four basins above Reading which the department hopes to sell. Money from the sale would have helped defray cost of the $35,000,000 reclamation project. The department experienced difficulty in its first try at selling the culm which is reported to contain enough coal for practical industrial use. Although 18 firms asked for specifications, not one subitted a bid by this week's deadline. The bids were advertised December 7. The department said it will re-advertise for bids but no date has been fixed. There were several reasons offered for the lack of buyers, the chief being that there is too much clay mixed with the minescule coal. Processing the culm for usable coal would be too prohibitive, according to reports.

During the post-war era the rapid strides in re-building the Pennsylvania National Guard brought it second in strength of all guard units in the country. Because of its elite standing, the guard's 28th infantry division was one of the first four guard divisions activated in the Korean crisis. Mid-1950 found the PNG boasting a force of nearly 24,000 men organized into 278 ground and 34 air units, according to state Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber's end-of-administration report to Gov. James H. Duff.

The dignity of the state house of representatives suffered a slight letdown by the deportment of Rep. Joseph G. Wargo (D) Lackawanna, during the opening session of the current General Assembly. Wargo, tie askew, by turns sprawled in his chair, chewed gum with a vengeance, read a newspaper and generally affected a bored air with the entire proceedings. He evidenced no interest in any of the speeches during the house session. Wargo is starting his second term as representative of Lackawanna county's fourth district. He has a military record in the last war during which he lost a leg in the battle for Cassino. He lists his "occupation" in the legislative directory as a legislator.

Governor Duff's last days as chief executive are filled with a full list of farewell parties. He hosted a dinner recently for members of the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents Association and wives and friends. The association is comprised of working newspapermen assigned to cover the legislature and is the oldest legislative newsmen group in the country. Last week Governor and Mrs. Duff entertained Republican county leaders. They will have a dinner and tea for incoming Governor and Mrs. John S. Fine and members of Fine's cabinet. The affairs are held at the governor's executive mansion at Harrisburg instead of the executive home at Indiantown Gap where the Duffs made their home during his tenure.

Amusement Tax Bill Provides For Penalty

Anyone who fails to carry out the provisions of the Amusement Tax Ordinance, which becomes effective January 20, upon conviction of the offense, can be fined from $10 to $100, in default of which he may be committed to jail for 30 days. The 10 per cent tax will be effective on all amusements not now taxed by the State of Pennsylvania.

Real Defense Program Snag Is Pointed Out

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—(INS)—The magazine Iron Age said today that the real snag in the defense program is the slowness of the military to decide what it needs.

The publication charged that money which has been appropriated for defense is being spent at a snail's pace, and added that much of it will not be converted into defense material during the present fiscal year, or soon after.

At the same time, Iron Age said the present system of giving defense orders priority will not assure an orderly flow of materials when military procurement reaches its peak. It declared that before that happens a controlled materials plan will be in effect.

In this connection, the National Metalworking Weekly said that most steel producers will welcome a full controlled materials plan program for steel. It observed that people administering the present system agree with the producers.

Meantime, Iron Age noted that the steel market is becoming more confused, with some holders of defense order priorities overstating the urgency of their needs and others trying to protect their regular quotas by tapping new suppliers for their orders.

Streetcars and buses carry about 25 times as many passengers in the United Statte as do railways.

Baruch Says Women 'Out Of His Perimeter'

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Elder Statesman Bernard M. Baruch said today he is an expert on many things, but women—they're "out of my perimeter."

The adviser to presidents was told that Helen Lawrenson, author of "Latins Are Lousy Lovers," had rated him as the kind of a "Man's Man" women crave for.

Baruch stuttered in amazement, "Do you know I'm 80 years old?"

Then he began to chortle and ended up in a gale of laughter at the idea that along with Ezio Pinza and Clark Gable, he is an "old fashioned man of authority . . . who will be tender, romantic, protective, but will stand for no monkeyshines."

Asked to comment on the Lawrenson article appearing in the February issue of Esquire magazine, the Parkbench philosopher mused:

"I'm an expert on many things, but women are out of my perimeter."

Driver Acquitted On Manslaughter Charge

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Frank L. Nadjeck, 19, of Swatara Township, has been acquitted of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of four Washington county residents in a head-on collision east of Harrisburg November 22.

A jury of seven women and five men returned its verdict in Dauphin county court after deliberating eight hours. Nadjeck drove a tractor-trailer involved in the wreck.

Fatally injured were the Rev. Guy McIntyre, 50, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness church, Richeyville; his 45-yeaf-old wife; their son, John, 16, and Miss Shirley Ann Carpenter, 16, of Daisytown.

Nadjeck's counsel had contended that he was driving the vehicle as a favor to its regular operator and was not aware of a trailer defect cited as the cause of the accident.

He said that the liquor board supports the health tests, and if such a dereliction is reported to the liquor board it is possible they would act upon any recommendation made.

Man Is Facing Swindle Charge

Said To Have Received Check In New Castle

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11—(INS)—Postal inspectors said today that a 30-year-old West Virginia man will be returned to Pittsburgh from Cincinnati where he was arrested on a charge of swindling a Kittanning woman.

Inspectors identified the suspect as Beryl Bonnett, alias Robert Bonatta, who they said used the mails to defraud his prospective mother-in-law, Mrs. Estella Raymey, of at least $1,500.

Bonnett was engaged to wed Mrs. Raymer's 20-year-old daughter, Charlotte, inspectors said. Inspectors said he took $1,500 from Mrs. Raymer after telling her he needed the funds to finance his business as sales agent for commercial scales.

Check Mailed To New Castle

Bonnett accepted the check mailed to him in care of General Delivery, New Castle, Pa., last Oct. 25, according to inspectors. They added the suspect is believed to have accepted $13,600 in all from Mrs. Raymer, and they said they have cancelled checks he received $9,000.

He attempted to get another $2,500 from the woman by telling her he needed the money to buy his way out of the Army, inspectors claimed. They said he was never in the armed forces.

Sharon Hopes To Nab Delinquents

Attorney William D. Irwin has been appointed assistant to the city solicitor of Sharon, at a salary of $200 a month, the same rate of pay as paid the assistant solicitor of New Castle. One of the things forecast by the appointment is a closer check on city income tax records aimed at nabbing delinquents. Attorney Nathan Routman is the chief solicitor of Sharon.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11.—If you think that Paramount studio is spoofing in announcing that Betty Hutton can hold her own with the best of them when it comes to flipping through the air on a trapeze for Cecil B. De Mille's circus picture, just take a look at the gal's hands.

Betty's palms are as calloused as any miner's or farm hand's as the result of her long weeks of receiving expert instruction in high trapeze acrobatics six or seven hours a day for the past few weeks.

"Just because they have put a 'no visitors' sign on the sound stage where they have the trapeze, don't think that I'm just lolling around taking it easy," says the vivacious Hutton.

Blisters Appear

She claims that each day's work on the high bar is worth a new blister.

"I can now hang by my heels and jump for my partner's hands," says the actress who took the exacting De Mille at his word when he said that he wanted nothing but realism in "The Greatest Show on Earth".

De Mille warned all his performers that they would have to get their screen roles down pat before they took off for the Ringling Brothers circus winter quarters in Sarasota, Fla. ,to begin the picture.

High Flyer

Consequently Betty has been flipping around on the trapeze ever since she got the part. Dorothy Lamour has been swinging by her teeth to perfect her role as tha "iron jaw" girl, and Lucille Ball, until she retired from the part when she learned that she was going to become a mother, had to get chummy with elephants as "the elephant girl".

They have had expert circus performers coaching La Hutton in her trapeze work. They all check in at the studio at nine a. m. and call it a day at six. Betty Swings away all day long.

They started out with the trapeez eight feet from the floor but now it is close to the top of the sound stage. A net is stretched below Betty to protect the studio's prize package.

A Wonderful Life

The Protestant film commission is completing its latest feature destined for the nation's 30,000 churches and schools. It's "A Wonderful Life" and stars James Dunn and Allene Roberts.

The commission's pictures play to a greater audience domestically than most Hollywood films. The pictures all deal with contsructive and moral subjects. The latest concerns a "little man" who, upon his death, leaves his home town a legacy in the form of accumulated good deeds which are carried on by his daughter to perpetuate the Christian family solidarity to the benefit of the community.

Charlie and Son

Charlie Chaplin claims that he will begin work in his next production, "Limelight", within the next 60 days either in Hollywood or England.

Charle and his son, Sidney, will play the leads, with the girls in the story yet to be cast.

Barons Defeat Flyers, 3 To 0

(By International News Service)

The Cleveland Barons can credit their "cousins" from St. Louis for helping them far out in front of the American Hockey league's western division.

The Barons, who now pace the west by a comfortable 16 points, downed the Flyers, 3-0, again last night for their seventh victory in nine games with the boys from Missouri.

Hornets Tied

The Buffalo Bisons, pacesetters in the eastern division, scored two final period goals to beat the Providence Reds, 4-2. Buffalo now holds a seven-point lead over the runnerup Hershey Bears.

The Springfield Indians came from behind to tie Pittsburgh, 2-2, in an overtime game and Cincinnati's Jackie Gordon bagged three goals to hand the Mohawks a 4-2 victory over Indianapolis.

Pittsburgh goes to Hershey and Cincinnati travels to Indianapolis in league games tonight.

Truckers Who Were Aided In Big Snow Plan Thanks

By James Bolquerin
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

AKRON, O., Jan. 11.—An idea hatched in a highway beanery following the Thanksgiving weekend snowstorm is about to prove once again that the heart of a truck driver is often as big as the load he hauls.

Sensitive to kind deeds from casual roadmates and roadside residents, several hundred truck drivers have decided to offer "a formal thank-you" to the people of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia who came to their aid during the big snow.

The drivers, representing about 30 trucking companies, will demonstrate their appreciation Jan. 17 for the food and shelter given thousands of highway travelers who were snowbound along hundreds of miles of highways.

The idea grew out of conversations induced by the kindness of those rural townspeople who took stranded victims in their homes, set up emergency kitchens and shelters in churches, lodge halls and fire stations and rescued hundreds of motorists marooned in their vehicles.

Tell of Hospitality

After the five-day storm, truck drivers returned to home terminals with stories of how private homes had been opened as refuges, how "People couldn't seem to do enough for us," and "They wouldn't let us pay them."

Typical of the residents cited were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Yonkers, who took care of 30 to 40 travelers in their home on Three-Mile Hill, about three miles east of Medina, O.

Talking up the idea at stops along their routes, the drivers decided to raise a thank-you fund and picked Irwin, Pa., and Medina, O., as symbolic of the overall relief efforts in the three states.

Soon employers learned of the plan and one of them, Owen O. Orr, president of Motor Cargo, Inc., of Akron, O., discussed it with executives of other trucking firms.

Out of their conversations grew the "Irwin-Medina Testimonial Committee." It did not take long for the contributions from drivers and employers to hit the $3,000 mark.

Two gifts of $1,500 each will be given civic leaders of both communities for civic purposes. The checks and bronze plaques are to be presented formally in the two communties simultaneously Jan. 17.

School Board Has Meeting

Many Matters Taken Up At Session On Wednesday Night

Immediate action towards disaster training for pupils of the public schools should be taken in the opinion of School Director Joseph R. Hensley.

Speaking upon the matter Wednesday night at the meeting of the school board Mr. Hensley said, "I believe the school system should be a part of the Civil Defense program. No one knows what may happen and I believe a program of training for disaster action should be undertaken."

While no definite action was taken by the board the reaction seemed to be that something should be done in the immediate future.

President Wilbur E. Flannery reported to the board that the survey of the school needs being undertaken by Thayer and Company was proceeding and that a report would be ready for the February meeting. It is probable a special meeting will be called to hear the report.

Bids Authorized

Bids were authorized advertised for the purchase of the following equipment for the senior high school band. One double French horn, 1 baritone horn, a trombone, a sound mirror tape recorder and special speaker. This equipment is needed immediately. For delivery after July 1 the following equipment will be advertised: three trombones, one glockenspiel and 12 lighted batons.

Eighty-two pieces of kitchen utensils are needed for the school cafeterias, Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner reported. She submitted a list of them and they will be advertised for bid.

Sabbatical Leaves

Two sabbatical leaves were granted for health reasons. Those authorized to take the leaves are Miss Ingeborg Hallgren and Miss Margaret Reeher.

Superintendent Frank L. Burton asked for and received permission to send six students from the Senior High School to the midwestern chorus at New Bethlehem to be held January 11-12-13. He asked for and was granted permission to have Elmer Delancey attend the Reading Conference to be held in Philadelphia January 29 to February 2.

Permission was granted for secondary principals to attend the Secondary Principals Convention in New York City February 10-14.

Permission was also granted for those who can attend, to go to the convention of the American Association of School Administrators to be held in Atlantic City, February 17-21.

Must Make Up Time Lost

The Department of Public Instruction has notified the board that the days lost during the heavy snow storm in November must be made up to conform to the requirement of 180 school days.

Superintendent Frank L. Burton said he had surveyed the teacher-principal sentiment as to how the days should be made up, and the majority favored cutting the Easter vacation, have school a half day on Memorial Day and close school June 8.

The board agreed to cut the Easter vacation so that only Thursday, Good Friday and Easter Monday in the season would be vacation period, and school will be held Memorial Day morning. School will close on June 8.

Bills in the amount of $1,943.94 were approved for payment.

District Attorney In Pittsburgh Refuses To Fire Assistant

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—(INS)—District Attorney William S. Rahauser of Allegheny county refused today to fire his assistant, Marjorie Hanson Matson, as demanded by State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti who accused her of harboring "Communist tendencies."

Shortly after granting his assistant a temporary leave of absence, Rahauser wrote Margiotti:

"As a public prosecutor, I will not condon or tolerate disloyalty or subversion to our government. On the other hand, I will not now or ever permit myself to become the medium of crucifying a woman on the basis of suspicion, rumor or innuendoes."

Mrs. Matson filed a libel suit against Margiotti yesterday. The state attorney general had accused her of having been connected with Red front organization, with having "Communist sympathies."

No Grand Jury Report In Troop Train Wreck

COSHOCTON, O., Jan. 11.—(INS)—The Coshocton county grand jury, hearing charges stemming from last September's big troop train wreck which killed 33 Pennsylvania National Guardsmen, has disbanded without action.

The January jury adjourned after hearing prosecutor Robert A. Carton recommend no indictment.

Carton told the jury:

"In view of the present law of Ohio it would be unsound to attempt to return an indictment in this matter. If returned, it is my opinion that it would be dismissed upon demurrer, constitute a futile gesture and a waste of public funds."

The wreck cost 33 lives last September 11 when the Pennsylvania railroad's fast passenger, the Spirit of St. Louis, plowed into a stalled troop train near West Lafayette, O.

The Interstate Commerce Commission ruled that engineer William E. Eller, 65, of the Spirit of St. Louis, caused the wreck when Eller failed to operate according to signals.

Carton explained:

"We have no common law crimes in Ohio unless expressly made so by statute. However distraught we may feel and however disturbed to find it so, the law of Ohio clearly answers that the engineer is not guilty of any crime under our present existing statutes.

"The legislature cannot remedy the past but it can provide for the future through appropriate enactment."

Federal Tax Forms In Mail

Division Chief Glenn A. Funkhouser, of the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue here, stated today that he has been advised by Stanley Granger, Collector of Internal Revenue, for the western district of Pennsylvania, that Federal Income Tax forms for 1950 and Forms 941 for Social Security and Withholding tax for the fourth quarter of 1950 are now in the mails and should be received by the end of the current week.

Taxpayers are requested to use the forms which are mailed to them in filing their 1950 income tax returns and the employment tax returns which they get through the mail, as the government has gone to considerable expense in mailing individual packets to each taxpayer.

Anti-Russian Resistance Is Really Strong

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—(INS)—A prominent Hungarian refugee said today that Americans debating the rearmament of Western Europe "seemingly have forgotten that there is a tremendous reservoir of anti-Russian resistance" in Eastern Europe.

Nicholas Lazar, former Hungarian Parliament Deputy, expressed belief that the peoples of Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, and the Soviet Ukraine "all are potential allies" of the United States should war occur.

Lazar, owner-editor of the once popular Budapest daily newspaper "A Reggel," claims that the peoples in those satellite lands are more violently anti-Soviet than those of Western Europe.

"The reason," he said in an interview, "is that those who have tasted Moscow rule are ready to make the greatest sacrifices to get rid of it.

"Unlike the Western countries where the Communist parties still are strong and have some popular support because of their shrewd propaganda, there are only 'drafted' Communists in Eastern Europe aside from the governing cliques."

Lazar fled from Hungary in 1948. He went to Austria before coming recently to the United States. He had maintained regular contact with his people from Austria.

"The Iron Curtain," he said, "really exists. It is a huge wall made of double barbed-wire fence, with thousands of mines in between, dotted with machinegun towers, and patrolled by Elite troops.

"Thousands have paid with their lives for trying to scale this gigantic prison wall from the Baltic to the Black Sea."

Amusement tax of 10 per cent on tickets of admission to various places in the city of New Castle will become effective January 20. Lewis A. McClung has been named receiver of such taxes. When the tax was authorized by city ordinace, it was designed to raise money to pay the increase in wages given city employes effective this year.

JESUS HAS A DAY OF ACTIVITY

THE LORD PREACHED AND HEALED MANY THAT WERE SICK

Christ teaching in the synagogue at Capernaum.

"Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all disease and all manner of sickness."—Matthew 9:35.

Scripture—Mark 1:21-39
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

This lesson tells of one very active day in Jesus' life.

Today we all—or most of us—at any rate, lead extremely active lives. We rush from one thing to another. We go to business, do shopping, attend group meetings of various kinds, hurry home and prepare for an evening of entertainment or work on some project; retire late and arise next morning to do the same thing over again.

How many of us leave time for a period of silence and solitude when we ponder the serious things of life and commune with God?

Jesus found time to go off by Himself to pray—to talk to His Father in Heaven about His course in the short life alloted Him on earth, to "find Himself." as we say, and draw strength from that Greater Strength that is God's.

Most people seem to be absolutely panic-stricken if every minute of the day is not given to activity, preferably with others. They hate to be left alone. To learn to enjoy oneself and to feel, as the Latin saying goes, to be "never less alone than when alone," is rare.

Capernaum, that ancient city on the Sea of Galilee, was a sort of "home town" to Jesus. Here lived Simon Peter and his brother, Andrew, and Jesus appears to have made their home His headquarters when He was in the city.

On the Sabbath, Jesus went to the synagogue and there He preached. Those hearing Him were amazed at His words, for "He taught them as one having authority."

Did you ever think of that before—that when Jesus spoke, it was always with authority? He was always definite; He knew the answers, as we say today, and stated them in words that left no doubt in the minds of His hearers as to what He meant.

The scribes, on the other hand, quoted the opinions of others—those of the authorities of the synagogue.

A man possessed of an evil spirit was in the synagogue that day, and the evil spirit cried to Jesus, asking to be let alone, as the Lord would destroy such as he and he knew who Jesus was. Jesus rebuked the evil one and told him to come out of the man. He did, and all were amazed, and the tale was spread abroad throughout the city.

Jesus and the four apostles whom He had called from their fishing, went to Simon's house. They found Simon's wife's mother ill of a fever. Going to her bedside, the Master took her by the hand, lifted her up, and straightway the fever left her. She was healed and was able "to minister unto them."

That amazing event was also the talk of the town, and that evening, when the Sabbath ended with the setting of the sun, a touching scene was staged at this humble home. Crowds of poor people came, bringing their sick and those possessed by demons, and Christ healed many.

Very early next morning, long before sunrise, Jesus arose from sleep and made His way to a place where He would be alone, to meditate and pray. He was not afraid to be left alone. He welcomed solitude. In the strange world to which He had come, he needed to be alone with His Father.

He did not enjoy His solitude for a very long space, however. Simon and those that were with him, sought Him out, and told Him, "All men seek Thee."

The Lord's answer was decisive: "Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth."

"And He preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils."

We are told how the healing ministry of Jesus led to the establishment in the early Christian church of institutions for relief for the needy. The origin of the modern hospital took place in the last part of the Fourth Century A.D., by Basil, Bishop of Syria, when a terrible famine caused an epidemic.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Child-Centered Home!

The Pattons were disgusted. They had just spent three most unpleasant hours with their friends, the Atwells. "If I had a kid like that," growled Mr. P., "I'd tan his hide. The way he was into, around and on top of everything and everybody—that's modern child rearing for you!"

But is it? Some people get the idea that the modern way of bringing up children swings from the "seen but not heard" school to the other extreme of the child dominating the family. Such an idea is far from the truth. Few, if any, child psychologists or modern educators suggest that for the sake of the child's personality development he be permitted unbridled freedom.

Children need to learn to live with others. And living with others mean that their rights and privileges must be given consideration. To shout and yell when grown-ups are talking, to climb all over them, to insist on being the center of attention all the time are not acceptable kinds of behavior. No conscientious parent permits such things.

Of course, children have to go through a process of learning about these things. Nor need they be "slapped down" in order to learn them. If the youngsters are not completely ignored, if they are permitted to take some part in conversation and other activities with the grown-ups and their friends, they will usually cooperate by not being pests. But, of course, they will now and again need to be checked in a firm but kind way.

No Decision On Meat Rationing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Price Stabilizer Michael Disalle said Wednesday afternoon that the government has not reached a decision on rationing and price controls for meat.

Disalle spoke to newsmen after a three hour conference with meat industry spokesmen who warned the government that rationing and price controls would produce bigger blackmarkets than those of World War II.

The stabilizer said the meeting did not "change the overall pictures" regarding possible controls on meat and he added that "it has already been our idea that if we can get along without price controls, that's the way we want to do it".

LET CHILDREN SHARE IN HOUSEHOLD TASKS

Parents frequently complain that their children do not take enough responsibility around the house. The reason may be that parents fail to acquaint them with what it takes to run a household smoothly and successfully, and what part the children can play in the whole picture.

Too often children see a job only in terms of the task itself. They do not look on it as part of the complete household management. It is easier for a child to do a job when he sees how it contributes to the happiness of himself and others in the family.

One complaint of children is that they do not understand what parents expect of them. The job has not been clearly outlined. It is often true that both child and parent were thinking about a million other things when the directions were given.

It helps when parents sit down with their children to talk over, or perhaps list on a blackboard or large sheet of paper what is involved in running the house. Then each child's initial might be placed beside the jobs he is already helping with. An initial and circle could indicate jobs the child thinks he could help with.

On days when special jobs are to be done, one mother found it helpful to list all the jobs and then let the children volunteer for the work until all jobs were taken. With an opportunity to choose, a child feels more like taking responsibility for a task.

Postmaster Son Fathers Boss

McMINNVILLE, Tenn. — The universal custom of having "dad" being the boss and giving the orders has been shoved aside for an even more familiar truism, "youth will be served."

In Warden county, Tennessee a son became his father's boss in a field in which the head of the house had held a position for nearly 32 years.

Arsey W. Womack, a 26-year-old veteran of World War II, became his father's boss when he was appointed postmaster of the rural community of Daylight.

At home, it would not be unusual for Oscar B. Womack to tell his son to "go see if there's any mail in the box, son." But the elder Womack, in the business world, is now under the supervision of his son.

Young Womack was officially installed as Postmaster of the community in which his father has been a rural carrier for many years.

They, however, are not the only people in the family "that can carry the mail."

Mrs. Oscar B. Womack, wife of the rural carrier and mother of the new postmaster, was named second vice-president of the ladies auxiliary of the Tennessee Rural Letter Carrier Association at a Nashville convention.

And when the new postmaster says, "take a letter, dad," you can bet the best stamp in your album it gets delivered.

George Washington Diaries Presented To Columbia

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Columbia university announced today it has acquired two "virtually priceless" George Washington diaries, kept in the first president's own handwriting. They give a day-by-day account of Washington's activities during the years 1795 and 1798.

The diaries were presented to Columbia by Charles Moran, Jr., a Columbia college alumnus and New York broker who originally inherited the volumes from his ancestors.

The century-and-a-half-old diaries are remarkably well preserved, officials of the Columbia libraries said and to keep them in the best possible shape for use by future historians, the libraries will house them in specially-prepared leather cases.

The 1798 diary reveals that Mount Vernon, just 153 years ago this month, was beset by "much rain and a thick fog with southerly wind (which) continued all the forenoon, clear afterwards." On January 8, 1798, Washington relates that "a Mr. Marshall music master, came here (presumably Mount Vernon) tuned Nelly Custis's harpsicord and returned after dinner."

Starts In 1795

The first part of the diaries—starting in April 1795—is devoted to remarks about the weather, testifying to Washington's interest in farming. He noted that on April 27 he was in "the Federal City," as Washington, D. C., then in its construction stages, was known.

The first president wrote that on the 15th of June the weather was "cold and disagreeable," which was in marked contrast with his entry of July 16th in which he remarked that he "breakfasted" at Christiana, Delaware; dined at Elkton, Maryland; lodged at Susquehannah Ferry, now Perryville, Maryland; and that one of his horses was "overcome with heat."

In November, 1795, Washington noted that "the whole month of November has been remarkably pleasant." He added that the ground "has never been froze, but few white frosts, and no snow."

On the 20th of August, 1798, Washington wrote that "no account of the weather, &CA, from hence to the end of the month, on acct. of my sickness which commenced with fever on the 19th and lasted until the 24th. Which left me debilitated." (Historians state that this latter reference probably dealt with an attack of malarial fever. It was treated successfully by "Jesuit's bark," as quinine was then called).

Another entry in the diaries was dated the 21st of September, 1798. It revealed that Washington "examined in company with the cmrs. some of the lots in the vicinity of the capital and fixed upon No. 16 in 634 to build on."

MEDICINE

LONDON — (INS) — Sir John Charles, chief medical officer to Britain's Ministry of Health, believes that too much free medicine is going down Britons' throats. In 1949 a total of 201 million prescraiptions were dispensed under the nation's billion-dollar-a-year National Health Service while figures for 1950 show that up to June 211 million were issued. Said Sir John: "It is difficult to believe that medicine drinking on this scale is of even temporary benefit to the nation's health."

Doctors In Category 1 Must Be In Service By July 1 Is Order

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—INS—The Defense Department announced that all physically fit doctors in "category 1" must be drafted or otherwise brought into military service by next July 1.

Dr. Richard L. Meiling, defense medical director said there are 8,400 doctors in the classification and that 5,000 to 6,000 of them will be eligible.

Category 1 consists of doctors who received training at government expense during World War II, or who were deferred from the draft to get training at their own expense and who did not see actual military service.

Meiling said it will also be necessary to take some doctors from category two either before or soon after July 1. This group consists of doctors who received training at government expense and who did see military service.

The department at the same time announced formation of a new group to be known as the Armed Forces Medical Policy Council to direct all military medical matters. It will include the surgeons general of the army, navy and air force and will be headed by Meiling.

THERAPY

NEW YORK—(INS)—Medical science for many years has recognized the psychological value of painting and other hobbies in helping to bring patients through long periods of illness. Fresh evidence of just how effective this sort of mental therapy can be is on view in New York City. There, patients and staff members of the Memorial Center for Cancer and allied diseases are exhibiting examples of their painting, sculpture, photography and handicrafts.

Decrease In Highway Fatalities Shown In State

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11—(INS)—The State Highway Safety Advisory Committee today reported a sharp decrease in highway fatalities in Pennsylvania during 1950 despite an upward trend in the nation.

Preliminary figures submitted to Gov. James H. Duff indicated 1,537 persons killed in motor vehicle accidents last year, 70 less than in 1949 and 134 under the 1948 level.

"It is impossible to stress enough the part played in the decline in high fatalities throughout the commonwealth by the Highway Safety Advisory Committee in the face of rising wholesale slaughter elsewhere in the nation," Duff said.

"During the slightly more than two years of its existence, the committe, through its safety education programs and other activities has focused the attention of the entire populace upon the necessity for conservation of human lives on the highways of the commonwealth.

Strive Even Harder

"It now becomes the further duty of every citizen of the commonwealth of every motorist, pedestrian and law enforcement agency, of every newspaper and radio station, to strive even harder to further drastically rescue this unnecessary slaughter," Duff said.

The committee stressed that the 1950 figure might be rised by deaths reported later and by future deaths stemming from past accidents.

Nevertheless, the committee said:

"Less people have been killed on Pennsylvania highways than at any time since records were kept, with the exception of the years during World War II.

"The death rate, 5.1 deaths per hundred million miles, for Pennsylvania, is the lowest in history and far below the national average of 7.2.

"Pennsylvania has a lower death rate, 5.1, than any of the larger states, based on the first 10 months of 1950, as reported by the National Safety Council.

"Pennsylvania is one of eight states in the union with less deaths in 1950 than in 1949. The others are Arkansas, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Utah and Vermont."

Her condition today was reported as fair at the hospital.

Death Sentence Is Imposed On Man For Killing Girl

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 11.—(INS) — A 35-year-old distillery worker and father of two was convicted early today in Louisville of murder in the death of a 15-year-old girl and sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Raymond Odell stood silent with bowed head as the all-male jury returned its verdict after three hours deliberation and recommended the death penalty for the slaying of Wanda Lee Hughes.

But the silence of the courtroom was broken by the sobs of his wife, Viona, and two small children.

The wife and children, Ruby, 3, and Charlotte, 2, wept and hugged the defendant as sentence was pronounced. As deputies led Odell away, his daughters followed him across the courtroom shouting "Daddy," "Daddy."

The jury returned its verdict at the end of a night session which carried over until 3 a.m. Public feeling was high in the case and armed guards surrounded the courtroom.

The body of the girl was found last September 11 in a shallow grave near Lawrenceburg, Ky. She had been missing from her Louisville home since August 30.

Send Gift To Stricken War Vet

Through the interest of Robert Smith, who is employed at the Jameson Memorial hospital, and a group of his fellow employes, a purse of money is being sent to Pfc. Robert L. Smith, of Middleburg, Pa., who suffered the loss of both hands and both feet, during the fighting in Korea.

Pfc. Smih, it will be recalled, had to have all four extremeties amputated after they were frozen.

Mahoning Township Firemen To Meet

Ticket Prices To Be Raised

Cost Of Admittance To Football Games Of High School Higher

Increased costs of equipment and the 10 per cent amusement tax recently levied by the city council have forced up the admission prices to high school football games.

Speaking for the athletic committee at the school board meeting Wednesday night Dr. W. Fulton Jackson announced a tentative scale of admission prices for the 1951 football season.

Thirty Per Cent Taxes

"The athletic committee dislikes having to increase admission prices but the increased cost of equipment and the increased admission taxes make it necessary," said he.

"The federal government takes 20 per cent of the admission and the city has now levied a 10 per cent tax. This means 30 per cent of the admission goes for taxes.

"We have compiled a tentative schedule of admission prices for this year for which we ask the approval of the board." The approval was given.

New Prices

The amended prices are as follows: Single adult admission to football games goes from $1 to $1.25. Single student admission to games from 35 cents to 50 cents. Reserved adult admission for seat under the canopy stays at $1.75. Student season tickets, good for seven games goes from $1.50 to $2. Adult season tickets from $7 to $8 good for seven games.

The athletic committee also submitted bids for 41 dozen "R" shirts for football, basketball, cross country and track athletes. The contract went to the New Castle Notion cmopany at a price of $7.75 per dozen.

Eighty Men In Controversy At United Plant

Approximately eighty men of the machine shop of the United Engineering and Foundry Company walked off the job late Wednesday evening. The men claim the company was not fulfilling its contract in regard to a five-day week.

The trouble arose when the company posted a notice saying the welders would be on a four-day week during a temporary lull in business. The men claimed they were entitled to a five-day week or a layoff.

The strike was unauthorized by the International Association of Machinists, the bargaining agent for the shop.

The men involved were on the second shift, from four to twelve. No unusual absenteeism was noted in the plant today but the matter of the walkoff is being adjudicated today.

Local Girl In Student Circus

Miss Elyce Wygant, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Wygant, of the Old Plank road, will be one of 225 Florida State University students who will compose the University Circus, which will tour the state in exhibitions in the near future.

Their first appearance will be before the Festival of States, which will take place at St. Petersburg on Tuesday, January 16. This year's troupe will be the largest and best of this annual feature at the university, Circus Coach Jack Haskin states.

Some of their acts include a high wire act, featuring four boys and two girls, a tiger act, and two big dance acts, with 24 girls in each.

Young Girl Is Found Suicide

MERCER, Jan. 11—Joanne Ethel Amos, aged 17 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Amos, of 145 N. Maple street, Mercer, was found dead in her second floor bedroom, with a .22 cal. rifle at her side. Her death was held suicide by Dr. Newton Masson, deputy coroner, who was unable to find any motive.

Miss Amos was a student at Mercer high school and popular with her class mates, it is stated.

Air Warning Help Needed

Observers Wanted To Aid In Defense

Additional observers are needed to help man the local Aircraft Warning Observation post here, Fred M. Alexander, supervisor for Aircraft Warning Service in New Castle announced today.

Mr. Alexander is in receipt of a letter of congratulation on the way in which the first test conducted last November was handled locally. However, there were not enough observers to man the station continuously, when this service is put into effect on a 24-hour basis, and anyone wishing to cooperate is asked to contact Mr. Alexander, 321 East street, at Phone 394; or Mrs. Lewis Blasdell, of 603 West Madison avenue, Phone 5288.

The letter, recently received by Mr. Alexander, praising the way in which the exercise here was conducted, follows:

"Dear Supervisor:

"Th. general interest displayed by, and the cooperation of, the Observation Post and Filter Center personnel, during the exercise on November 4 and 5, is deeply appreciated by this headquarters. The information contained in the reports of the exercise is of considerable value, and the results are encouraging.

"Arrangements are being made for similar exercises to be held periodically. Due notification of the effective dates will be given through normal channels. Your reports will be most carefully analyzed.

"It is requested that you convey to your associates, our thanks for their enthusiasm and cooperation.

Sincerely,
Frederic L. Smith, Jr.
Major General, USAF
Commanding.

Aircraft warning service is under the direction of the U. S. Air Forces, Headquarters for the eastern area being Stewart Air Force Base in New York state.

New Jersey Will Test Out Air Raid Sirens

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—New Yorkers were told today that if they hear the wail of air raid sirens at noon on Saturday, they shouldn't be alarmed. It will just be the State of New Jersey testing out its sirens.

In New York itself no tests are planned. Defense officials said when the city sirens go off "it will be the real thing."

TRAFFIC HINDRANCES

January 9, 1951
New Castle, Pa.,

Editor, New Castle News
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

I have been much interested in your editorials advocating reduction of speed on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

However, it is not necessary to go onto the Turnpike to find excessive speeds, you will see plenty of that on Route 422 between New Castle and Harbor. Passenger cars travelling at 65 to 85 m.p.h. and trucks going up to 65, mostly the latter speed.

I have done quite a bit of travel on the Turnpike and can truly say that the speed there is nowhere as much a hazard as one that is universally practiced within the limits of the City of New Castle; namely, all night parking along streets that are part of regular highways.

For instance Route 88 with very heavy travel often crowded by cars returning from Cascade Park or along Croton avenue with cars in close formation after a night baseball game. Route 18, through Mahoningtown and at the sharp curve just off West Washington street is another of many places where cars parked all night are a hazard.

It is only necessary to drive on one of those highways with oncoming headlights shining in ones face (many of them with high beam) to realize that one mistaken guess as to where to drive could cause serious consequences,

I am not sure that the New Castle police have the authority to do any thing about controlling those conditions, and I am hoping for a movement to try to influence Council to pass ordinances to correct those hazards. After all, the taxes that we pay are for the maintenance of highways, not for free garages for hundreds of people who are infringing on the roads. Most of them could leave their cars on a side street with very little trouble.

With three major highways and several lessor ones passing through the city, it is evident that very few of the streets are adequate to take care of the traffic that goes on them.

Another place that is very annoying to hundreds of early morning motorists is the short block on West Washington between the lights at Greenwood and at Atlantic avenues, which is always blocked by a large tractor and several cars, leaving only one lane for heavy converging traffic, about half of it turning off onto Atlantic. I have seen cars backed up on Greenwood as far as State street because of that roadblock. Also on Mercer street cars are parked in spite of "No Parking" signs where are always turning off Grant street.

Yours very truly,
Vernon Keenan,
P. O. Box 207.

SENT IN ALARM

January 9, 1951
New Castle, Pa.,

Editor, New Castle News
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

In your Jan. 9th edition of the New Castle News there was an article concerning the fire at Haney's Department store. We agree that the promptness in which the New Castle Fire Department responded to the alarm kept damage to a minimum. However there was no mention of the party responsible for turning in the alarm.

We feel that this ommission is not deliberate, but due to the fact that at the time no one thought to give the person's name to the authorities. After reading your article, several of us living at the Y.M.C.A. feel that John Gurgacz of the Y.M.C.A., who discovered the fire and whose prompt turning in of the alarm, should also be given some credit and consideration in helping to keep the blaze at a minimum.

This letter does not intend in any way to take any credit from the firemen, on the contrary we feel that the firemen did a very commendable job, not only in their prompt response to the alarm but also their consideration for the property involved.

Yours Truly,
William Talley

COPS ARE ON DIET

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Jan. 11.—(INS)—The entire Montclair police force is watching their calories today under stern orders from Chief Timothy G. Fleming.

The chief ordered his men on a diet when Dr. John Winslow, town physician, said the police are overweight and it's keeping them from operating at top efficiency.

The chief put himself on a diet, too, saying, "truth is I'm a trifle overweight myself."

Can Never Get Hardened To Tragedy Of Refugees

By WADE BINGHAM
Telenews-INS Newsreel Camerman

ON THE KOREAN FRONT, Jan. 11—There are so many refugees all over the place in Korea, traveling south, that you'd think you could get so hardened to the sight you could ignore it.

But you never do—you can't.

You can't get used to the sight of men and women, old and young, and of babies, packed on tops of boxcars, 50 or more on top of a single car.

You can't get used to seeing people waiting patiently for a ride on one of these trains as though they were pullmans—waiting crowded together in camps by the thousands, so tightly jammed that they live, eat and sleep in their own filth.

They do not dare move if they want to keep their chance alive for a ride on one of these trains.

I went to take pictures of these refugees. When I started it was going to be just another story. But it was not just another story. It never will be.

Incredible Smell

The first thing that hits you when you near the places where refugees are gathered is the incredible smell and the filth.

There were thousands packed in the railroad a rea in this town, waiting and hoping for train transportation to refugee havens in Pusan and other parts of southeast Korea.

They stayed crowded together because none wanted to risk the chance of missing a train and there were not nearly enough trains, I think, for all these people.

Dirt and garbage was six inches deep in some places.

And here were people of all ages, men and women. Here also were small babies and toddlers. Children wailing, hungry, cold and incredibly dirty like everyone else.

The filth was so terrible and so penetrating that after I returned to my billet that night, people in the hall actually jumped as I entered, wondering what the stench was.

Those who were lucky got on trains. Accommodations that cost a person his life's savings consisted of enough room to stand on the roof of a boxcar or in a sand car.

Trains To Pusan

The refugees that day were boarding trains for Pusan. They carried almost everything with them from bicycles to clothing and food that they managed to find.

They crowded on boxcars and, on little grass ropes, they pulled up huge bundles they had carried for miles on dusty roads.

Perhaps the most pathetic were the children and babies. Mothers carried their infants on their backs, papoose style, trying somehow to keep them from being crushed.

Sometimes children are abandoned—infants too small and helpless to survive. They lie near the railroad tracks in their tattered blankets. Thousands of people are near enough to hear the wails of the abandoned, hungry, cold children—but none do anything about them.

I suppose all these other people had their own troubles keeping alive but it was frightening to see the infants ignored.

There was really nothing anybody could do. That night, I suppose those abandoned babies froze or starved to death.

Near-Record Steel Output This Week

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The American Iron and Steel Institute said today that the nation's steel mills will produce a near-record amount of ingots and steel for castings in the week beginning today.

The institute placed operations in the current week at 102 and 7/10ths percent of capacity, calculated to produce 1,980,800 tons of steel.

This is a rise of nine-tenths of a point from the preceding week when 17,400 fewer tons of steel were turned out.

A month ago, the mills operated at 101 and 3/10ths percent of capacity with a yield of 1,953,800 tons, and a year ago, the rate was 94 percent with a yield of 1,791,900 tons of steel.

The all-time high was established in the week of November 6, 1950, when the industry operated at 103 percent of capacity and produced 1,986,600 tons of steel.

The current week will mark the sixth straight week of above-capacity operations.

Takes A Doctor's Advice
Gas Station Man's Aches and Pains Leave Completely After First 3 Bottles Of Hadacol
Father helped, too, who also had deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.
Wesley Scallions, energetic young gas station attendant in Peoria, Illinois, tells how HADACOL keeps him on the job. Wesley Scallions has this to report:
"I took HADACOL upon the advice of my father who has taken it regularly for some time. He could not eat, was unable to get around, lost sleep and was generally run-down because he had these deficiencies. My brother who is a doctor recommended HADACOL to Dad. Since taking HADACOL, Dad has been feeling like a different man; he now has a hearty appetite, sleeps well and gets around once again on his own.
"I have had pains in my right arm and legs due to these deficiencies. I lost many days of work until I started to take HADACOL. After my first three bottles the pains left me completely and now I work every day without having any pains. I am a gas attendant and need full use of both arms and legs in my line of work. Thanks to HADACOL I can now perform my job satisfactorily and feel fine."
Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief
Don't be satisfied with symptomatic relief — HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of those cruel nagging aches and pains when due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in the system.
AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous, complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning.

That's the kind of product you've been wanting—the kind you should buy and start taking at once.
Many doctors recommend HADACOL. It is also wonderful for stomach disturbances (gas pains, indigestion, bloating, heartburn) and a general nervous run-down condition when due to such deficiencies.
Be fair to yourself! If you have such deficiencies—why go around feeling half-alive — a burden to others when you can get this great HADACOL at any drugstore. Remember — HADACOL must help you or your money back. Trial-size bottle, only $1.19. Large family or hospital size, $3.39. At Rands Store

Aliquippa At New Castle Friday; Wampum Plays At East Brook

Hurricane Host To Undefeated Aliquippa Team

Milanovich Brothers Match Wits Friday

Brothers Sam and John Milanovich get together Friday night for a basketball squabble on the Washington junior high floor.

Sam will bring to New Castle a rough-riding Aliquippa squad, unbeaten in 11 engagements this season, and owning the only perfect full season mark in the WPIAL.

The Aliquippa head man, now in his third season at the Quip school, has built an impressive over-all league record of 22 wins and four defeats. He guided his squad to 29 consecutive victories and a state championship in his first season there.

The Quips return two men from last year's starting five and will boast a slight height advantage over New Castle.

Beaver Falls has played both Aliquippa and New Castle and scored 34 points against each school. Aliquippa tallied 52 at the Tiger home court, New Castle 47. Common non-league foes played, show that Aliquippa bested Duquesne 57-36 and Ford City 46-44. New Castle topped Duquesne 48-46 and was swamped by 49-35 at Ford City.

Aliquippa men have tallied 579 points this season while holding the opposition to 380 for an offensive average of 52 points per game, and for a defensive average of 34 opponents' points per game.

New Castle has totaled 471 markers in season play against 455 opposition points. This total gives New Castle an offensive average of 47 per game and a defensive rating of 45 enemy points per game.

Aliquippa has a 2-0 league record, New Castle a 2-1 league record.

Franklin-Washington Contest Headlines Junior WPIAL Slate

Benjamin Franklin junior high school travels to George Washington junior high Friday afternoon in the top attraction in Section 16, Junior WPIAL.

Franklin is undefeated in league play, while the Little Presidents of Washington have won one and lost one. Both teams have defeated Union. Sharon defeated Washington, 25-24.

Union travels to Butler for its third league contest, while up in Mercer county another headliner is scheduled between Sharon and Farrell at Farrell.

Betts Selected On Army All-Star Football Eleven

Sgt. Frederick Lynn "Skip" Betts, former New Castle high football tackle, has been selected on the Army All-Star team of Northern Italy and Trieste area for the second straight year.

"Skip" was a varsity lineman on the Red Hurricane eleven of 1944 and 1945. He recently penned word home that he was very proud of his former teammate Al Tate.

The All-Stars are comprised of high school, college, and professional players. Betts was selected for both defensive and offensive platoons. When not gearing themselves for trouble in the land of Tito, the football teams travels by air to many places in Europe and Africa, meeting stars of other sectors.

Betts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Betts, R. D. 7.

Famechon Wins Split Decision

Weathers Storm In First Round

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.—(INS)—European featherweight champion Ray Famechon weathered a furious first-round attack last night and rallied to win his second split decision over Charley Riley in St. Louis before 8,116 fans.

The Frenchman's victory in the 10-round bout virtually assured him a title match with champion Sandy Saddler if the latter defeats Willie Pep in New York February 23.

Riley bloodied Famechon's nose and left eye in the opening round but the Frenchman weaved out of trouble and slowed the St. Louis slugger in succeeding rounds.

Referee Dick Young and judge Al Graf voted 54 to 46 for Famechon and judge Gene Ferrell called the bout a 50 to 50 draw.

Famechon weighed 128½ puonds and Riley 129¾.

Charles And Oma Clash Friday Night At Garden In Heavyweight Title Bout

By LAWTON CARVER
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Tomorrow night's 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden between champion Ezzard Charles and Lee Oma for the world heavyweight championship can lead to many things, the most important of which is a return match between Charles and Joe Louis next summer.

This now seems to be a foregone conclusion, in view of the fact that Louis belted out Freddie Beshore a few nights back and now will continue his batting practice against other lesser gladiators.

Charles Heavy Favorite

Charles will be at least 4 to 1 going into the Garden ring against the veteran from Buffalo, and the fight probably will be waged along those lines.

On paper, Oma doesn't appear to have much of a chance even to look good, much less beat the title-holder, who appears to be a better fighter in each start. Perhaps that is traceable to the nature of his opposition, if it is opposition.

Oma can be a pretty fair sort of fighter, or used to be at odd times, when he felt like it, but he also can be bad to the point where he has justified belatedly some of his showing by saying that he often was, shall we put it mildly, out of condition.

Oma Can Hit

He does not make any bones about these things, and you sometimes wonder if he really thinks he can fight. There is a sharp division of opinion on this subject in some circles.

Oma's style is deceiving not only to opponents when he means it to be, but also can mislead the onlooker. He's a crazy hitter, as they say, throwing punches from all angles, with his hands never actually in fighting position. They just dangle loosely by his side.

He moves fast—even though not quite as nimbly as formerly—and he generally is hard to hit.

CHAMP'S BELT—Heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles proudly holds the championship belt given him during the 13th annual dinner of the Boxing Writers' Association of New York held at the Waldorf-Astoria. He also received an award from Ring magazine which named him "Fighter of the Year". Charles is slated to meet Lee Oma in a title bout Friday night.

Pulaskis Grab Tenth Victory, To Play Tonight

Paced by Mike Covelli, star forward, former Union high star, with 28 points, the Teddy Kolcz coached K. Pulaski "Big Five" basektball team swept to its tenth win of the current season at the K. P. floor last night, defeating the strong Struthers American Legion team, 69-59.

The Pulaskis have now won seven straight and are undefeated at home. The Oaklanders led at halftime, 30-27, and managed to stay in front the entire second half. Keeping pace with Covelli was Korab with 18 points, while Plonka and Pace played fine defensive ball for the Kolczmen.

Business Manager Eddie Carr today announced the release of Ed Nevotne, Lou Plonka, and Bob Peterson and the signing of Jim Grinnen, Ray Procopio, Jackson, and Anderson, the latter a former Bessemer high star, and the first three former Wampum high stars under Butler Hennon.

Tonight the K. Pulaskis will battle the Farrell C.I.O. team, seeking their eighth straight and 11th win of the year. Game time is 8:15 o'clock.

30-Points A Game

Clyde Cummins, East Brook High school cager, became the tenth member of Lawrence county's Class B WPIAL league's exclusive 30-points-in-a-game club, when he meshed 30 against Union last week.

Other members of the select group are Eddie Marich, Wampum; Bill Emery, Mt. Jackson; Pat Kerr, Mt. Jackson; Don Mayberry, Shenango; Don Schena, Wampum; Dave Kanagy, Wampum; Coy Craine, Wampum; Tom Hutchison, New Wilmington, and Joe Capalbo, Wampum.

Eddie Marich and Pat Kerr are the only more-than-once members of the group. Pat hit or went over the 30-point mark on three different occasions and Eddie twice in league contests.

Coy Craine, former Wampum High school great, was the first player in the history of the county section to hit the 30 mark. Coy hit 30 on the nose in the final game of his high school career in 1943, against New Wilmington.

Holds County Mark

Coy, incidentally, also holds the county, and perhaps district, all-time mark with 48 points in a non-league game with Darlington in 1943.

Highest single game mark ever posted in the county loop was the 47 points set in by Eddie Marich of Wampum in the opening game of the 1946 season against Princeton. In that game Wampum dumped Princeton 120-28, to set an all-time team high.

Bill Emery and Pat Kerr, of Mt. Jackson, posted the next high single game efforts—37 points. Emery's big night came against Bessemer in 1949. Pat posted his 37 against Union last year.

Don Mayberry and Marich come next with 32-point gems. Mayberry hit his high against East Brook in 1947, while Marich dumped his second high in against Princeton in 1946.

Kerr Again

Don Schena, star of last year's championship Wampum team, hit for 31 points in the opener against Shenango last year. Dave Kanagy of Wampum hit for 31 points against East Brook in 1945 and Pat Kerr swished 31 against New Wilmington in 1949.

Tom Hutchison joined the elite circle when he dumped in 30 points against Union last year. Joe Capalbo of Wampum passed his entrance test when he registered 30 against Princeton in 1946. Pat Kerr made his final splurge late in the 1950 season when he made 30 points against East Brook.

Frank Procopio of Wampum joined the club in 1947 by swishing 30 points against Mt. Jackson. It was declared later in the season, however, that Mt. Jackson was ineligible for league play because its coach was not a teacher, and the total is not a league score.

Bowl At Beaver Friday Night

Peek and Tom of Beaver will bowl the DeCarbo team in a Tri-County league match Friday night at Beaver. Last week they won one game from Ambridge. Margaret Chill rolled high, 465, for three games. Mrs. Elia Dyll was high, 180, for one game.

Boosters Rally, Nip Ohio Team, 66 To 60

The East Brook Boosters rallied in the final stanza last night at East Brook and finally passed the Youngstown Cedar Grill team to win 66-60.

Ralph Manzo tallied 26 points, as the Boosters came on from behind to nip the Ohio team. However he was outdone by the sharpshooting floor leader, Cobbin, who hit for 30 points.

The Boosters will tangle with Sharon Westinghouse Saturday night at the East Brook floor.

Royals-Lakers Win Pro Games

(By International News Service)

The close battle between Rochester and Minneapolis for first place in the National Basketball Association's Western Division continues today with the Royals maintaining their slim advantage.

Rochester nudged the Baltimore Bullets last night in overtime, 80 to 78, while the Lakers came from behind to defeat the New York Knickerbockers, 70 to 65.

The victory was the fifth straight for Minneapolis, but they still trail Rochester by eight percentage points.

In Eastern Division play, the Syracuse Nationals moved into third place as they nipped Tri-Cities, 97 to 96.

Indians Sign Larry Doby For Season Of 1951

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians reported today that centerfielder Larry Doby has agreed to a 1951 contract providing for a "handsome increase."

The fleet negro player agreed to terms with General Manager Hank Greenberg during a telephone talk from his Paterson, N. J., home late yesterday.

Although terms of the contract were not revealed, it is believed that Doby signed for a sum in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Doby led the Indians in batting last season with a mark of .326. He socked 25 home runs and drove in 102 runs. He also was the starting centerfielder in the annual all-star game last year.

Campanella Escapes Serious Injuries Result Of Blast

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—(INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers thanked their lucky stars today that the hot stove league did not claim their ace catcher.

Roy Campanella escaped serious injury Tuesday night at his St. Albans, N. Y., home when a hot water heater exploded. The Brooklyn backstop suffered second degree burns of his right eye and superficial burns of his face and right hand.

He was taken to Jamaica hospital where he remained overnight. Dr. Arthur Minsky assured Campanella that the accident will not cause permanent injury.

Canadiens Top Rangers, 3 To 0

(By International News Service)

The next time Maurice (The Rocket) Richard feels that he is not playing his best for the Montreal Canadiens, all he has to do is to appear in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Richard was emerging from one of his worst slumps of the season prior to last night's game with the Rangers, but it was either the heckling of Tony Leswick or the pungent Garden air that prompted Maurice to score three goals and singlehandedly defeat the Blueshirts 3 to 0.

Tie For Third

Thanks to Richard's hat trick—the second of the National Hockey League this season—the Canadiens moved to a tie for third place with Boston.

Richards also broke the Ranger's string of five straight victories on Garden ice, and his scoring gave him the league lead in that department.

Bob Mathias Seeks Naval Academy Spot

PALO ALTO, Cal., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Bob Mathias, Olympic and national decathlon champion from Tulare, Cal., has applied for admission to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis next year.

Mathias will remain at Stanford university, where he is a sophomore, for the remainder of this semester if he is accepted by the academy. He will participate in Stanford's spring track events.

St. Lawrence Nips Castle Jets, 35-30

St. Lawrence Holy Name cage team of Hillsville defeated the Castle Jets Wednesday 35-30 in a three-minute overtime period. Romano of St. Lawrence was high scorer with 12 points. DiMuccio led the Jets with eight points.

Indians Face Toughest Test Of '51 Season

Wildcats, Mounties Play Home Contests

East Brook high school entertains Wampum Friday night in the Section 23 headliner, in an effort to stop the Indians' rush toward their second straight section championship.

Wampum will again be odds on favorite to cop its third straight league game, but people out East Brook way think that the Eagles might be able to pull a surprise.

East Brook rests in a third place tie with New Wilmington, with a 2-1 record, behind Wampum and Bessemer, who boast 2-0 records. The Eagles loss came at the hands of Bessemer in their league opener.

Wampum has racked up impressive wins over Shenango and Union in league action. East Brook's wins are also over Shenango and Union.

Bessemer At Shenango

Bessemer will be out to keep its unbeaten record intact Friday night when it travels to the lair of the Shenango Wildcats. The Cementers have scored wins over East Brook and New Wilmington in section play to date.

Shenango's lone victory was a 42-40 win over Mt. Jackson.

In the other league game Union will travel to Mt. Jackson to battle the Mounties for sole possession of last place in the league.

Neither team has been able to notch a league win to date.

SECTION SHORTS

Walt McGinnis of New Wilmington took over the scoring lead Tuesday night by raising his total to 60 points. . . . Clyde Cummins of East Brook is second with 55, followed by Dick Pitzer of Union with 52, Eddie Badger of Shenango with 48, Johnny Allen of Shenango with 46, and Caesar Craine of Wampum with 41. . . . Craine's were scored in only two games, the others in three. . . . Charlie Craig of Fredonia scored 41 points against Stoneboro Tuesday night to raise his season's total to 239 points in 10 games. . . . Tom Gustin of Mercer scored 30 against Greenville.

Recipe ... FOR BUILDING A HOME that will be a Joy Forever!

Building a new home is very much like baking a cake. The final result depends upon what you put into it . . . and how the various ingredients are prepared and put together.

Concrete Masonry is an all purpose building material which, today, is preferred by many architects and home builders . . . because of outstanding advantages. But here, again, there is a great deal of difference in Concrete Masonry Units — although exactly the same materials may be used by different producers.

Here at our plant we manufacture genuine VIBRAPAC Units . . . made by the exclusive Besser method, which employs all-directional VIBRATION while the block is being molded. This eliminates the possibility of air holes or other imperfections and assures extremely compact, perfectly formed Concrete Masonry units with which you can build a home that will be "a Joy forever".

Discuss details with your architect or builder.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

FISHING through the ice is coming back into its own this year at Lake Erie. Generally stymied the past few seasons by mild winters, fishermen found the Lake Erie ice much to their liking during the past couple of weeks. While old-timers insist the best ice fishing occurs in February, the recent frigid weather beckoned veterans of the sport during the past few weeks. It would not be surprising to the writer were he to hear that Bud Fleeger, Red Mitchell and several others who take many fish from the lake during the summer were giving ice fishing a whirl. . . . Bill Koonce, the plumber, put in many weeks during the bass season hooking 'em in Lake Erie. . . . Only 2,980 whitetails were taken during the recent Ohio four-day deer season. Nineteen counties were open to hunting. The largest buck taken was shot near Millersburg, Holmes county. It had nine points and weighed 260 pounds. . . . Credit must be given the State Federation of Sportsmen's clubs for restoration of the $4 bounty on red fox taken in Pennsylvania. The group pushed the matter until the game commission was convinced it would do much to eliminate the vermin. Trappers, farmers and even some sportsmen may go fox hunting now. Years ago there were lots of fox in the Mt. Jackson and Harlansburg districts, which recalls that Jim Hodge, the Harlansburg outdoorsman, has a small white dog which has a head, ears and nose like a fox and body like that of a Spaniel. . . . Tanners' industry of New York recently appealed to deer hunters to sell or give their deer skins to local tanners for processing. The skins are needed to make highly flexible gloves for the army.

THE 47TH AMERICAN Bowling Congress tournament in Columbus, with 5,109 teams, had a $349.769 prize fund, which isn't hay. . . . In the Woman's National Match Game championships, Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., won for the second straight year. . . . Elliott Steelers will bowl the Ambridge Laris five at Castle alleys Friday night, according to Rose Mooney. They are Tri-County Women's league teams. . . . Bill Figuly plans a motor trip to Arizona within the next few months. . . . Herman Wehmeir, of Cincinnati's hurling staff, proved a fooler in 1950. Rated as the ace of the staff, he issued the most walks, most runs and the most earned runs in the National loop. . . . Lee Oma, a trial horse, but a cutie, boxes Ezzard Charles Friday night. . . . Mayor John F. Haven hopes Elkins Brothers brings pugilistic fame to New Castle by knocking Bob Satterfield in New York, January 19. . . . E. Gene Schweinsberg will blossom forth in a new "gas buggy". . . . This is the time of season when Sammie Haycock pages the out-of-town golf notables to play at Sylvan Heights course. . . . One of the most earnest rooters for the Senators ball club is Bill Semler, the magazine and newspaper dealer. . . . Jered's candle is now within a foot of the ceiling. When one candle burns it melts. Another is then mounted on the tallow and illuminated. . . . One of those who misses pro' grappling bouts here is a feminine hair stylist who always occupied a gallery seat over-looking the ring. Another is Ralph Dart, who heckled grapplers, and so vigorously, at times, they argued with him. . . . There'll be a packed house when Duquesne and Westminster clash a second time this season in February at Farrell. It is regrettable a sportsorium isn't available here for big floor and other attractions.

Kansas City club will be the guinea pig for a test this season when the club will break from night baseball in a counter-attack at the growing lure of television. The American association club will play Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons, and the other games at night. The shift toward afternoon games is being made on the premise that night games have lost their novelty, many fans still prefer afternoon games, television has its greatest attraction at night, and more women will go to parks in the afternoon. The outcome of the test will be interesting to learn.

Bradley Meets Saints Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—New York is bustin' out all over with undefeated basketball teams today, but one is a nationally prominent visitor out to do Pa Knickerbocker no good.

That would be Bradley's Braves, winners of 15 straight, and possibly the best quintet in the 48 states and then some. The Peoria, Ill., Peaches return to Madison Square Garden tonight in a game with St. John's, a team with a 10-2 record that has shown well against formidable opposition.

Yards of Insults

SOME of the yards of insulting telegrams and cables he has received from behind the Iron Curtain since his recent escape to Paris are held by "Gen." El Campesino, formerly of the Soviet Russian army. El Campesino was a Spanish Communist and fought in the International Brigade during the civil war, then went to Russia where he was made a Red general. His revelations of what goes on in the Red "Utopia" brought insults. (International)

Ghost Of Queen Fails To Appear On British T.V.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—British television viewers know a lot more today about the 16th century red brick palace of Hampton Court but they were disappointed by the failure of the ghost of Queen Catherine Howard to flit across the screen.

The British Broadcasting Corporation television department last night put on the air pictures from inside the ancient palace while a commentator narrated historic details.

The BBC had made no promise to its viewers that they would see the 400-year-old ghost of the decapitated fifth wife of King Henry VIII which is supposed to meander through the place. But in advance notices of the program the BBC said that if the wraith of Catherine showed up "we shall be very pleaesd."

Henry VIII had Catherine beheaded two years after their marriage because of her Clandestine love affairs.

Friday, January 12, is the grand opening scheduled for 8 a.m., at the new store—the Farmer's Delight Poultry, located at 31 South Jefferson street.

Proprietor of the store, Benny Polakov and the manager, Gerald Massave, feel the additional need in New Castle for a Poultry store that supplies a full line of freshly and cut-up poultry. The poultry is to be slaughtered in this city, instead of being shipped here.

Already operating the South Side Poultry, the two local residents will supply the greater demands for poultry, with the opening of the new branch on South Jefferson street.

In addition to poultry, fresh eggs will also be put on the market, for the convenience of the patrons.

Hours to be observed weekly are from 8 a.m., to 5:30 p.m. At the present time the hours on Saturday will be from 8 a.m., to 8 p.m., with subject to change if business demands it.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Porcelainized beads (known commercially as "dresden pearls") are the latest lustre on the 1951 fashion scene.

Technically, they are alabaster glass nuggets, dipped six times in a color pearlizing solution, and baked in a kiln.

Fashionwise, they're irregularly shaped imitation pearls in colors that glow with a three-dimensional effect.

The innovation, perfected after two years by Designer Harold of Vogue Jewelry, is expected by its maker to put a "new look" on pearls, woman's favorite ornamentation for several decades.

Dresden pearls will be sold for spring and summer in several pastel shades, with mauve and amethyst the high-fashion favorites. They'll be tagged at usual costume jewelry medium-price: $3 per strand.

'Corn King' Is Acclaimed At Show

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11—Willard S. Schwager, Lansdale, Montgomery County, was declared "Corn King" at the State Farm Show.

Schwager averaged 137.4 bushels per acre on a 12-acre field in 1950 to take first place in the third annual 5-acre Pennsylvania Corn Club competition. He was cited for his achievement at the annual Farm Show meeting of the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association which, together with the Agricultural Extension Service, sponsors the contest.

Among those who received awards, were: A. W. Fisher, West Sunbury, with a yield of 97.6 bushels; C. B. Wachsmuth, Portersville, 93.4 bushels; John Hoye, R. D. 2, Volant, 82.9 bushels; and Clarence Minner, R. D. 2, Pulaski, 75.3 bushels.

Missouri was named for the Missouri Indians, a tribe of the Sioux nation.

Lewis Opposes Any Wage Freeze

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—John L. Lewis on Tuesday strongly opposed any government wage freeze and declared there is no "need to put the American economy in irons" to handle the current defense program.

The United Mine Workers president conferred for two hours with the nine-man federal wage board as the first of a number of industry and labor leaders called before the agency to discuss wage stabilization.

The hard-hitting mine union chief told newsmen after the closed session:

"Freezing Not Required"

"The task before the country does not require the freezing of wages. Stabilization can be effectuated through the normal processes of free collective bargaining in this country.

"Arbitrary government fiat and a constant succession of regulations would only be confusing to labor and industry and the country as a whole."

Lewis declared that American industry, with 50 per cent greater capacity than at the time of Pearl Harbor, can handle the present rearmament job in stride.

He said the nation should expand productive capacity in order to maintain civilian requirements and U. S. foreign markets.

Lewis told newsmen the wage board did not ask the miners union for a no strike pledge.

SLEEP LONGER

CHICAGO—The National Assn. of Bedding Manufacturers reports that a recent survey showed that American women average 53 minutes more sleep nightly than men.

Treatment Advised For Bombing Burns

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11—(INS)—Quaaker City residents were advised of an inexpensive, easily-prepared treatment for burns and shock in the event of an enemy bombing attack.

The treatment was recommended by Dr. Melville J. Aston, deputy chairman of the Medical and Health Services of the Philadelphia Civil Defense Council. It consists of one teaspoonful of table salt and one-half teaspoonful of sodium bicarbonate in one quart of water.

Dr. Aston said the treatment was suggested by the National Institute of Health.

He pointed out that it will not heal the burn itself, but will restore body fluids, offset shock and aid in the elimination of toxins.

Soap and water scrubbing is recommended for removing curb markings from white wall tires without scratching or harming the surface.
